Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Professor Charles Eliot Norton.

O, CAPTAIN! MY CAPTAIN!

WALT WHITMAN.

Walt Whitman was born on Long Island, N. Y., 1819. He held the successive positions of printer, carpenter, and journalist; at the outbreak of the civil war he volunteered as a nurse. In 1865 he was dismissed from a government position on account of the character of his "Leaves of Grass." So censured was he for this volume that W. D. O'Connor wrote a vindication of him called the "Good Grey Poet," and W. M. Rossetti printed an English edition of the book. Whitman died at Camden, N. J., 1892.

O, Captain! my Captain! our fearful trip is done,
The ship has weather'd every rack, the prize we sought is won,
The port is near, the bells I hear, the people all exulting,
While follow eyes the steady keel, the vessel grim and daring;
  But, O, heart! heart! heart!
    O, the bleeding drops of red,
  Where on the deck my Captain lies,
    Fallen cold and dead.

O, Captain! my Captain! rise up and hear the bells;
Rise up—for you the flag is flung—for you the bugle trills,
For you bouquets and ribbon'd wreaths—for you the shores a-crowding,
For you they call, the swaying mass, their eager faces turning;
  Here, Captain! dear father!
    This arm beneath your head!
  It is some dream that on the deck,
    You've fallen cold and dead.

My Captain does not answer, his lips are pale and still,
My father does not feel my arm, he has no pulse nor will,
His ship is anchor'd safe and sound, its voyage closed and done,
From fearful trip the victor ship comes in with object won;
  Exult, O shores, and ring, O bells!
    But I with mournful tread,
  Walk the deck my Captain lies,
    Fallen cold and dead.

I. N. PERRY STAYS FOR A NEW BANK

N. W. Harris, B. A. Eckhart, Edward Hines, Azel F. Hatch, and L. W. Noyes in Project.

CAPITAL TO BE $2,000,000.

Application Sent to Controller of Currency for Permit to Form a National Institution.

ALL DONE IN TWO DAYS.

Isaac N. Perry has withdrawn his acceptance of the Presidency of the Southern Trust and Banking company of New Orleans and will remain in Chicago to organize and become President of a new bank, the National Bank of Commerce. The bank will be started as soon as possible with a capital of $2,000,000 and surplus of probably $500,000, already practically subscribed. Application was sent to the Controller of the Currency last night for permission to organize the bank.

This step is the outgrowth of a conviction on the part of a number of businessmen that the consolidation of banks has gone too far in removing institutions that were vital to the welfare of the city, and that an inviting field for the investment of fresh capital in banking is thus opened.

Surprise to Banking Circles.

Associated with Mr. Perry in this new enterprise are Norman W. Harris, Bernard A. Eckhart, Edward Hines, Azel F. Hatch, and La Verne W. Noyes. They are named as incorporators in the application to the Controller.

The announcement of Mr. Perry's change of plans will be a great surprise in banking circles, as his acceptance of the Presidency of the New Orleans bank was supposed to be final. His resignation as Vice President of the Continental National Bank ten days ago to take the opening offered him at New Orleans paved the way in an unexpected manner for the establishment of a new national bank in Chicago.

Several days ago Mr. Perry was talking with a group of men when some one asked him why he went to New Orleans instead of remaining in Chicago and organizing a new bank, for which the field seemed to be excellent. He replied that he was not accustomed to offering himself to serve in positions he had not been asked to take, supposing the question was asked jocularly.

Five Men Pledge $900,000.

The men said they were in earnest and the foundation of the new bank was laid then and there. In the group which had been talking were five men, and inside of five minutes they had pledged $900,000 towards the capital, and each of the five present felt certain several of his friends would want stock in the proposed institution.

So spontaneous and earnest was the showing made that Mr. Perry promised to withdraw if possible from the New Orleans proposition and at once entered into correspondence by wire with that end in view. He soon announced that he would remain in Chicago and take charge of organizing the new bank.

As far as the work has gone—and it is now at a point where success seems assured—the steps toward organizing have taken just forty-eight hours. Most of the capital required has been pledged, but so quickly has everything been done that the names of the other backers of the project could not be learned.

Need of More Banks.

That $2,000,000 of capital can be raised for the establishment of a new national bank shows that capitalists are assured there is a safe field for the investment of money in this direction and reveals the public sentiment that more banks are needed to accommodate the rapidly growing business of Chicago.

Mr. Eckhart, who is closely associated with Mr. Perry in the organization of the new bank, made the following statement regarding it:

"We believe the extraordinary financial, commercial, and manufacturing growth of Chicago warrants the establishment of another national bank to care for the business adequately. I think the recent mergers leave room for another national bank and that it will be an assured success.

"In Chicago, with its population of 2,000,000 and its rapidly increasing commerce, we now have only six national banks in the heart of the business district. The consolidation idea seems to have gone too far. It is time to start in a new direction."

Location Still Undecided.

The location of the bank has not been determined on yet, nor the exact date when it will start. It is expected by the men who are organizing it that it may be ready in thirty, or at least sixty, days. Attention is called to the fact that recent consolidations leave several good locations vacant.

That two of the men who are most active in the formation of the new bank have been identified with other institutions in the past makes the starting the more significant. Mr. Eckhart is a director of the Metropolitan National, which is to be absorbed by the First National Bank on May 31. He probably would not have become interested in any new bank had the Metropolitan retained its individuality.

Mr. Perry for eleven years was Vice President of the Continental National Bank, and undoubtedly had a great deal to do with the wonderful growth of that institution. He resigned as Vice President with every expectation of going to New Orleans. The negotiations which were begun immediately after his retirement for consolidation of the Continental and the Commercial National will lessen the number of national banks in the down-town district by one more, if they are concluded, and emphasize the conditions already existing.

Within the last two years the national banks that have withdrawn from business in Chicago by consolidation with other institutions are the Union, the America, the Northwestern, the Merchants', and the Metropolitan.

Permit from State Auditor.

The State Auditor issued a permit yesterday for the organization of the Northwestern Trust and Savings Bank, with a capital of $250,000. The incorporators are Charles N. Morehouse, Christian C. H. Zillman, and Patrick J. Minogue, all lawyers in the Unity Building. The incorporators said they represented capitalists who would start a new bank down-town.

AX STRIKES CITY LIBRARY

DIRECTORS CUT OFF $54,000 EXPENSE FOR REST OF YEAR.

Hours for Reading Shortened, Number of Deliveries Reduced—Many Employes to Be Dismissed and All Others Required to Take Thirty Days' Vacation Without Pay—Evening Closing Rule, Except in Branches—Civil Service Commission May Object

Expenses of the Public Library were reduced nearly $7,000 a month by action taken by the Board of Directors yesterday afternoon. The change takes effect tomorrow morning and is the result of warning recently sent to the board by Controller McGann.

By the deduction of $54,000 from the operating expenses for the remaining eight months of the year 25 per cent of the working service has been cut off and the number of book deliveries cut in half for each week and the hours in which patrons of the library can secure books have been reduced.

Vacations for Employes.

None of the employés will receive an increase in salary and all are compelled to take thirty days' vacation without pay. Some who are under civil service will lose their positions entirely. The rules of the Board of Directors were changed to such an extent that these employés could be discharged without violating the civil service laws. Some of the board, however, thought that they might have some trouble with the Civil Service commission, and a committee will wait upon the commissioners in regard to the matter.

After May 1 the Public Library proper will not be open after 6 o'clock in the evening. The library will be open from 9 o'clock in the morning until 6 o'clock in the afternoon. Up to this time any one could secure a book until 10 o'clock at night.

Three Deliveries a Week.

All the branch libraries will have the morning service entirely cut off and one hour at night. They will open at noon and close at 9 p. m. There will be but three deliveries of books to the branches a week instead of six. People who go to the branch libraries after this and ask for a book in the morning will not receive it until two or three days later, while now they can often secure it the same day.

Librarian Hild said that the public would not receive the service that it had been receiving, but he thought that it would be good service for the money expended.

"We were told that we must cut our expenses and we have labored hard and for some time to make the right reductions," said he.

Secretary Wickersham said the revenues of the library had been crippled by the new revenue law last year and that they had received orders from the Controller to reduce the expense.

"We have done it to the best of our ability, keeping in mind the purpose of the library," said Mr. Wickersham.

Reductions in Detail.

The table showing where the reductions will be made follows:

|  | Reduction a month. |
|---|---|
| By earlier closing of the library proper | $ 367 |
| By closing the branch reading-rooms part of day | 150 |
| By three book deliveries weekly | 385 |
| Discharging of fifteen pages | 500 |
| Non-employment of stenographer | 60 |
| By discharge of twelve clerks in circulating department | 373 |
| Transferring artroom employés | 108 |
| Discharge of janitors | 710 |
| Discharge of engineers and firemen | 425 |
| Total reduction in salaries | $3,078 |
| Cut in pay of remaining employés | 1,015 |
| Cut in pay of delivery station keepers | 329 |
| Reduction in books, binding, etc | 2,475 |
| Total reduction per month | $6,897 |

JOHN W. GATES BECOMES BOARD OF TRADE MEMBER.

Steel Magnate and Operator in Railroads Joins Big Grain Exchange—Rumored Bull in Corn.

John W. Gates, the steel magnate and stock operator, was elected a member of the Board of Trade yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Gates has been at times a heavy operator in grains, and since March 1 has been a special partner in the firm of Harris, Gates & Co. He is supposed by the trade to be the principal behind the large scalping operations in corn which that house has been carrying on for several weeks. He is believed to contemplate a bull campaign in the yellow cereal, but occasional lightning changes of front by Harris, Gates & Co. have mystified the trade.

Mr. Gates' application for membership has been posted for some weeks. He was obliged to appear personally before the Membership committee, and owing to his absence in New York until this week the matter was delayed.

Harris, Gates & Co., of which Charles G. Gates, son of John W. Gates, is a full partner, holds thirty memberships in the Board of Trade. There are three other special partners, John Lambert, Isaac Ellwood, and John Dupee.

DOGS FALL BEFORE POISONER.

Seven Out of Eight in Two Blocks Victims of the Unknown Destroyer—All Cats Dead.

The Hyde Park dog poisoner is doing his work thoroughly and well. Out of eight dogs that yelped and barked and wagged their tails along Cornell avenue, between Fifty-first and Fifty-third streets, three weeks ago only one is left, and that is under the care of a physician, with grave doubts of its recovery.

"Dandy," the last of the eight, is a little black and tan, the especial pet in the family of a Board of Trade man. Since the poisoner began work three weeks ago "Dandy" has been as carefully guarded as a vaccinated arm, but the fiend was too clever and the last dog in two blocks hovers between life and death. The cats are all dead.

Of the seven dead dogs not one was vicious, all were pets, and several were valuable. One setter belonging to Sidney L. Underwood of the Omaha Packing company had a long pedigree and was valued at several hundred dollars.

BOY CRUSHED UNDER MANTEL.

Six-Year-Old Furrow Kiser Fatally Hurt While at Play in Michigan Avenue Home.

While playing in the parlor of his father's home Furrow Kiser, 6 years old, pulled a mantel piece, weighing several hundred pounds, over upon himself. He died at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning from internal injuries, the accident occurring on Monday afternoon at 3357 Michigan avenue. He was the son of John W. Kiser, a retired merchant.

Two painters were at work in the parlor and the mantel had been taken from before the fire grate and was leaning against the wall. The boy, it is presumed, became wedged in back of this piece, and in endeavoring to escape caused it to fall upon him.

Dr. John B. Murphy was summoned. He, with Dr. William E. Coyne, attended the boy until his death.

TRAIN IN WRECK; 4 DEAD; 22 HURT.

MANY IN ONE HOSPITAL.

DINING CAR DEMOLISHED.

Keokuk, Ia., April 29.—[Special.]—Four persons were killed and twenty-two injured by the wrecking of the California limited train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad at Cama, a switch station five miles west of Medill, Mo., this morning. Four cars were hurled from the track in making a curve at a rapid pace.

The Dead.

BASTER, RUFUS, Chicago, waiter.
FAIRBANKS, C. C., Chicago, waiter.
GATES, ——, son of Henry C. Gates, Australia.
WERTHEIMER, ——, San Diego, Cal.

The Injured.

Davis, J. F., Chicago, mail clerk, badly bruised.
Eitel, Emil, Chicago, cut on head and hands.
French, S. Tenney, Oak Park, Ill., slightly bruised.
Gates, Henry C., Australia, bruised.
Gates, Mrs. Henry C., Australia, bruised.
Gates, ——, daughter, scalp wound.
Heinrich, Max, musician, Chicago, leg badly bruised.
Markell, Charles, Sydney, Australia, severe scalp wound.
Platner, Johanna, 12 years old, Waukesha, Wis., face cut.
Runkle, W. J., Galesburg, Ill., mail clerk, leg and hand bruised.
Sargent, Charles, Chicago, conductor, badly bruised.
Thomas, W. W., Newton, Mass., head cut.
Thompson, William H., Chicago, porter in library car, bruised.
Weeks, George W., Clinton, Mass., serious internal injuries, arm broken, and hand hurt; condition dangerous.

Train on Way to Chicago.

The injured include Conductor Charles Sargent and a twin sister of the Gates' boy. The parents of the twins were also badly bruised. S. T. French of Chicago also is among those hurt. The train was eastbound, and the accident happened at 9 o'clock this morning, before many of the passengers went to breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Gates were en route from Australia, and were, with their children, eating in the dining car when the wreck came.

Running at a Rapid Speed.

The train was over an hour late and passed Wyaconda, the last station west, at the rate of forty-five miles an hour. When the heavy train struck the curve at Cama the rails spread.

The train consisted of two mail cars, seven Pullmans, and one dining car. The mail car, the dining car, and the two forward sleepers went into the ditch. The tender was ditched, but the engine remained on the track.

Coaches Smashed to Splinters.

The derailed coaches were smashed to kindling wood, even the axles being bent out of shape.

The dining-car turned completely over and rolled down a ten-foot embankment, and two coaches were thrown clear off the right of way. Traffic was resumed tonight.

The conductor went to a farmhouse and telephoned a report of the wreck. The railroad officers then hurried a relief train from Fort Madison.

Cut Off from Communication.

The trainmen worked well, assisted by unhurt passengers and neighboring farmers. The place of the wreck is distant from all communication.

Fourteen in One Hospital.

Fourteen of the injured were taken to the hospital at Fort Madison. The others, except the mail clerk, Runkle, continued on their journey. The dead were taken to Fort Madison.

Tears Up 500 Feet of Track.

The track was torn up for a distance of 500 feet and it was late in the afternoon before trains could pass over the main line. Division Superintendent F. T. Dolan arrived at the scene of the wreck with the relief train and immediately made a report of the accident to the officials at Topeka, although the news of the wreck was not made public for several hours.

French Not Hurt Seriously.

At the residence of S. Tenney French, 210 Home avenue, Oak Park, it was stated last night that Mr. French had been only slightly injured in the wreck. He sent them telegrams after the accident. The last said he would be at home this afternoon at 2:10. Mr. French was general Western agent of the White Star line till a few weeks ago, when he resigned. Soon after resigning he started for California on a business trip, and was on his way home when the accident occurred.

Heinrich Returning from Tour.

Max Heinrich, the singer, went with his eldest daughter, Julia, to California over a month ago, and has spent the time since then at Pasadena and the other resorts, giving frequent recitals, at which his daughter divided the honors with him.

Miss Heinrich returned one week ago, and is preparing to go to Europe within a short time, her father and the other members of the family intending also to go.

The family gave up the residence, 588 East Division street, last week.

Mr. Heinrich has been singing in Chicago and the middle West for a number of years, enjoying great popularity.

Chicago Importer Injured.

Emil Eitel, also reported among the injured, is a member of the firm of Eitel Bros., wine importers, at 186 Randolph street. He lives at 622 La Salle avenue.

ARRESTED FOR CHICAGO CRIME.

W. B. Mahannah, Former Express Messenger, Suspected of Stealing $20,000 Package.

Burlington, Ia., April 29.—[Special.]—W. B. Mahannah, formerly express messenger, was arrested here today by government secret service men. He is supposed to have been connected with the theft of a $20,000 package consigned from a Chicago bank to this city. His arrest was brought about by the attempt to get the government to redeem money that was partly burned.

DISMISS UNION CAR MEN.

ACTION EXCITES EMPLOYES OF STREET RAILWAYS.

Hurried Conferences Held and Statements Secured from Those Who Were Dropped—President Gompers Wired to Come and Address Public Meetings on Friday and Accepts—Company Asserts Only Six Were Discharged, and That for Cause.

Street car employés on practically every line in the city were in a state of excitement yesterday when informed that between six and eleven men had been dropped from the pay-rolls of the Elston avenue line of the Union Traction company because they had joined the newly organized union. Representatives of the company say that only six men were dismissed.

The announcement resulted in a hurried meeting of the officers of the union, and the Executive board of the Chicago Federation of Labor was called together last night at 187 Washington street to discuss the situation. The men who lost their places attended and were cross-questioned as to the cause. Their statements were taken and will be brought to the attention of the federation at its next regular meeting.

President Gompers Summoned.

Telegrams were sent to President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and to W. D. Mahon, President of the Amalgamated Association of Street Car Employés, asking them to be present on Friday night and address meetings. Both replied they would accept.

Invitations also were sent to President D. G. Hamilton and General Manager Robert McCulloch of the Chicago City railway, President John M. Roach of the Union Traction company, General Manager H. M. Brinkerhoff of the Metropolitan Elevated, President Leslie Carter of the South Side Elevated, and President Clarence Knight of the Lake Street Elevated to be present at any of these meetings.

Many Meetings Called.

The following public meetings have been announced for Friday night, at which protests will be voiced and further steps taken toward organization.

North Side—Lincoln Turner Hall. Chairman, James H. Bowman. Principal speaker, Captain W. P. Black.

South Side—Either South Side Turner Hall or America Auditorium. Chairman, Thomas I. Kidd. Principal speaker, Clarence Darrow.

West Side—North Division, Wendell Hall, 1504 Milwaukee avenue. Chairman, Walter Carmody. Principal speaker, William J. Strong.

West Side—South Division, Horan's Hall, Halsted and Harrison streets. Chairman, C. O. Pratt, general organizer Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employés. Principal speaker, W. D. Mahon, President of the same organization.

Elevated railway men from all lines in the city will meet at 104 Randolph street. John J. Fitzpatrick, organizer Chicago Federation of Labor, will preside, and George A. Schilling will be the principal speaker.

Cost of Living Too High.

Employés of the traction companies say that with the high prices prevailing for nearly everything they cannot support themselves on the wages they are receiving. They assert that all necessaries of life cost more, while their earnings have not increased. To this fact is credited the willingness of the men to join the union, hoping to better their condition.

Electric Line Raises Wages.

Two hundred motormen and conductors of the Chicago and Joliet Electric railway company were given notice yesterday of an advance of about 10 per cent in wages. The new scale becomes effective July 1.

TO OPPOSE PHILIPPINE POLICY.

Committee Appointed at New York Meeting to Assist Exposure of Alleged Atrocities by Soldiers.

New York, April 29.—A conference of citizens opposed to the policy at present followed in the Philippines met here today. Charles Francis Adams of Boston offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

"That a committee of seven be appointed whose duty it shall be to take all necessary steps to effect the full disclosure of the facts connected with the processes and executions in the Philippine Islands and to appear in person and by counsel before the present Senate investigating committee and take such steps as may be calculated to secure complete publicity, and, further, to initiate such other action as may tend to vindicate the national character."

Chairman Carl Schurz appointed as this committee Charles Francis Adams, Boston; Andrew Carnegie, New York; Wayne MacVeagh, Philadelphia; Herbert Welsh, Philadelphia; Edwin Burritt Smith, Chicago; and President J. G. Schurman of Cornell University, to which committee Carl Schurz was added.

MORGAN GETS A FRENCH LINE.

Compagnie Generale Transatlantique Said to Have Joined the Shipping Combine.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 30, 3 a. m.—A dispatch from Paris asserts that the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique has effected a tacit understanding with the Anglo-American shipping combination on terms identical with those accepted by the German companies. Mr. W. J. Pirrie, chairman of the Harland and Wolff Shipbuilding company, today held a conference with Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan Jr. regarding the details of the circular to be issued to the stockholders of the White Star line.

WILD RIDE TO SAVE BOY'S LIFE.

Milkman Makes Futile Effort to Bear Injured Child to Hospital in Time.

In an effort to save the life of 9-year-old Charles Wolf, 968 North Winchester avenue, who had been run over by a wagon near his home, Albert Meyers, a milkman, lifted the boy's unconscious form into his wagon and drove at a wild gallop to the Alexian Brothers Hospital, half a mile distant. The injuries proved too serious, and the boy died a few moments after his arrival at the hospital. The boy was run over by a sand wagon driven by Robert Stabert. Stabert was arrested.

WIFE DIES AT GOLDEN WEDDING.

Couple Receiving Congratulations of 200 Guests When Paralysis Strikes Down Mrs. Ullrich Leger.

Fond du Lac, Wis., April 29.—Mrs. Ullrich Leger of Elmore while celebrating with her husband their golden wedding anniversary today was stricken with paralysis and died two hours later. Two hundred guests were present and at the time were extending congratulations to the aged couple as they passed into the dining-room, where the feast was waiting.

Packers Secure John S. Miller and Other Counsel and Will Resist to the Last.

BETHEA GETS NEW FACTS.

Federal Lawyers Untiring; Yards Workmen Laid Off; Meat Trade Badly Crippled.

RATES FOR BOARD RAISED.

Alarmed by the constantly more active preparations of the United States government for a sweeping investigation of the workings of the alleged beef trust, the packers have retained special counsel to prepare their defense in the approaching crisis.

John S. Miller of the law firm of Peck, Miller & Starr, and former Corporation Counsel, was engaged yesterday to act in that capacity. Mr. Miller, with Louis C. Krauthoff, counsel for Armour & Co.; A. H. Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co.; and James F. Meagher, counsel for the G. H. Hammond Packing company, will have charge of the defense in the injunction proceedings about to be begun in the United States Court.

Despite their denials, the packers and their attorneys have been holding conferences daily. Their employment of some of the best legal talent obtainable indicates the serious view they take of the intention of Attorney General Knox to probe their business dealings.

Prosecution Also May Get Aid.

It also was announced that the Department of Justice had been considering the employment of additional counsel to assist United States Attorney Bethea and Special Counsel Day in the prosecution. John P. Wilson, John S. Miller, and another Chicago attorney were under consideration, but the retention of Mr. Miller for the defense will preclude his employment by the government.

It has been given out that it is the desire of the Department of Justice that all persons who have knowledge of the methods of the alleged beef trust shall come forward and place such information as they may have in the hands of the prosecuting officials.

Developments of the Day.

The important developments in the beef trust war during the day were:

The employment of special counsel by the packers.

The statements made to United States Attorney Bethea by Frank X. Busch, formerly secretary to Louis F. Swift, Second Vice President of Swift & Co., in which Busch declared he knew of enough evidence "to land some people behind the bars."

The decision of the federal officials to probe the relations existing between the packers, known as the "Big Six," and the railroads, by which it is alleged that the latter receive rebates denied all other shippers.

The discharge of 500 employés of Libby, McNeill & Libby, because of the decreased demand for beef as a direct result of the people's belief in the existence of an illegal combination to maintain high prices.

The discovery by the Health department that owing to the slow sale of beef there is danger of the spoiled article being offered for sale throughout the city.

The universal advance in the price of board in the boarding-houses and family hotels.

The admitted unwillingness of many of the prosecution's witnesses to make affidavits to the facts in their possession owing to the pressure brought to bear on them by their business friends to keep out of the legal entanglements.

Will Be Blow for Blow.

All pretense of "mutual assistance" between the packers and the federal officials in the forthcoming investigation are now thrown aside. The packers and their counsel gave out interviews soon after the announcement by Attorney General Knox of the government's plans, in which they offered to assist in the investigation. Their recent actions are not considered consistent with that declaration.

Everything points to a vigorous resistance to the prosecution of the case by all the means known to the ablest counsel obtainable.

There seems little doubt that the packers will oppose every step of the prosecution and will seek to throw every obstacle in the way of the governments attorneys.

Federal Lawyers Untiring.

Acting on that belief, Attorney Bethea and Special Counsel Day are bending every energy to a full preparation of their case without the "assistance" of the packers.

Frank X. Busch, former private secretary for L. F. Swift of Swift & Co., met Mr. Bethea by appointment at the Chicago club last night and furnished the federal official with some of the most valuable information secured thus far in Chicago.

Without the least hesitancy Mr. Busch told Mr. Bethea all he knew of the so-called agreements existing between the Chicago packers at the time he was in the employ of the packing firm. Mr. Busch admitted he had been advised by some of his business associates not to furnish the government with any of the information in his possession, but declared he considered it his duty to place all the facts in his possession in the hand of the proper authorities.

Documents Tell the Story.

According to Mr. Busch, there is correspondence in the office of the Swift Packing company which will point strongly to the existence of many of the illegal agreements to be charged by the government.

He stated he had written many letters to the car line and beef departments of Armour & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., and the G. H. Hammond Packing company. The letters were never written on the firm letter-heads, but on plain paper.

He charged H. C. Powell and Frederick Clark with representing Swift & Co. in the regular meetings to determine prices and fix the amount of beef to be shipped to certain points at stated periods. Mr. Busch declared there were constant violations of the "understandings" between the packers, which usually were discovered by the falling off in the sales in some particular district of the product of the firm living under the agreement.

Says Evidence Is Indisputable.

Mr. Busch also told Mr. Bethea that he believed the copies of the letters still are in existence, and added that they contain facts which the packers could not dispute.

In an interview Mr. Busch declared there was enough evidence in the letter books of

Sw[illegible]" to land some people behind the bars."

Attorney Bethea had men out trying to locate Busch all the afternoon, but the witness, who was engaged in taking down the testimony in the Austin transfer case before Justice Gibbons, volunteered to meet the District Attorney as soon as he heard he was wanted.

It became known during the search for Busch that the government officials are having trouble in securing the attendance of the witnesses desired. Those who have knowledge of the business dealings of the packers fear to divulge them for fear of injuring their standing.

Methods of the Prosecution.

The prosecution will rely to a considerable extent on the testimony taken in the investigation of the rates on packing-house products before the Interstate Commerce commission to show that the "Big Six" packing firms secured rates denied to other shippers.

In the transcript to be used appears the testimony given by J. M. Johnson, Third Vice President of the Rock Island railroad. That official testified that a concession of five cents from the published schedule was given the large Chicago packing firms.

The method by which the fact was brought out was shown by the following testimony. Mr. Day, who will also appear in the packers' case, conducting the examination:

Mr. Day—How was this cut rate exhibited on the bill of lading? Was it exhibited there? Was it done flat or fixed up by voucher?

Mr. Johnson—The net rate on domestic provisions and on dressed beef was fixed by voucher—that is, the difference between the published tariff rate and the contract rate on domestic provisions and dressed meats was refunded, while the export provisions were handled in a different way, sometimes billed prepaid at a flat rate, and then again repaid the difference between the contract rate and the domestic tariff rate.

Q.—When these rebates and readjustments were made by voucher or check other than flat billing, through whose hands did it pass?

A.—Well, a great many claims came to me.

Q.—Were presented to you by the packers or shippers?

A.—They were mailed to us by the packers.

Q.—And you in turn passed them over to whom?

A.—To our freight auditing department for checking.

Q.—Then what?

A.—They were checked up and drafts sent to me for payment, and I mailed them to the packing-houses—the packing firms.

Q.—Can you name some of the concerns to whom you sent those checks?

A.—Well, I guess almost everybody on the river. We did business with almost everybody—Fowler & Co., Ruddy Bros., Cudahy, the Omaha Packing and Provision company, and Hammond & Co.

Q.—And Swift?

A.—And Swift.

Q.—And Armour?

A.—We had little from Armour.

Q.—Morris?

A.—Yes, sir, and Morris.

Q.—Whom did you make your settlements with for Morris?

A.—I think the checks have gone to the order of the Nelson Morris Packing company or the Nelson Morris company.

Q.—In each instance was the check drawn to the concern or to the man?

A.—I will not say. I think, as a rule, our checks were drawn to the order of the packing-house.

Suspect Elaborate Rebate System.

Attorneys Bethea and Day also will endeavor to gain some light on the frequent charge of an agreement between the railroads and the packers under which the latter received rebates on freights under the guise of claims for lost goods, damaged goods, and errors.

"If the evidence in the offices of some of the railroads and packing firms could be secured, an agreement by which rebates are paid under all kinds of pretenses could be established," said a former employé of a packing concern yesterday. "Several years ago it was the common practice for the packers to file a claim for 'lost goods,' 'damaged goods,' and 'errors in freight charges,' which would be allowed by the railroad companies without question.

"The 'claims' were nothing else than rebates according to a secret agreement, which probably was never in writing."

Meat Trade Falling Off.

That the packers have been doing less business since the beginning of the agitation against the methods and dealings of the alleged combination is admitted.

Libby, McNeill & Libby, one of the packing plants controlled by Swift & Co., laid off 500 men yesterday because of reduced output of the plant.

Retailers report a falling off in the demand for beef and as a result have cut down their orders.

Fear of Unfit Meats.

The unusual decrease in the demand for beef has caused the Health department to be more watchful for bad meats. Many dealers are said to be overstocked, and the department fears an attempt to dispose of the unfit article.

"The department will be on the watch for bad meat in these markets," said Secretary Pritchard. "If there is little business being done, as the reports of the inspectors indicate, it is probable that there will be some spoiled meat soon.

"People who find meat too expensive for them to buy every day have cut down to three times a week. The force which works to bring this result is more powerful than any formal, organized effort could be."

Price of Board Goes Up.

There is woe in store for the occupants of boarding-houses and family hotels. The advance prices for meats, as well as other articles of food, has cut down the profits of the keepers of such places, and there is a general disposition to increase the rates of weekly board.

The $6-a-week houses have become $7 houses, and the rates in all have been marked up on an average of a dollar a week. Even then the owners declare the boarding-house business does not present the opportunities for profit that it did in the past.

There was practically no change in the prices of beef yesterday. The last schedule appears to be satisfactory to the packers, as there has been no notice of a change received by the retailers.

NEW YORK FACTS ON THE WAY.

Tammany Committee's Report on the Beef Situation Sent to Attorney Day.

New York, April 29.—[Special.]—After three weeks of hard work, the committee appointed by Tammany Hall to prepare a case against the packers was able to finish the transcription of evidence on Monday and send the results to Attorney Day in Chicago.

The committee appointed by the Republican club of New York, of which Alfred L. S. Bullowa is chairman, had declared its intention of holding an important conference with the leaders and managers of the packing-houses, probably in Washington, during the present week. It was learned today that the plan has been practically abandoned, because of the disinclination of the packers to discuss the charges with a committee which has not gathered evidence at first hand.

"The people of this city would be justified in taking ropes and stringing the packers up to the nearest lamppost," said Alderman John T. McCall this afternoon, while speaking in support of a resolution introduced by himself requiring the Board of Estimate to appropriate $15,000 to pay the salaries of ten additional meat inspectors. "The ten inspectors of the Health department are not enough to inspect all of the meat shipped to this city."

The resolution was adopted.

The Republican club committee which is investigating the beef situation has received word from Attorney General Knox that he will meet the committee here for a conference on Thursday.

GIVE LAND FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

George E. Adams and the Schoenhofen Brewing Company Open Tracts for the Summer.

Former Congressman George E. Adams has given for use as a playground during the summer an open tract owned by him at Seminary and Maud avenues and Osgood street. The Schoenhofen Brewing company will also devote ground to playground and small park purposes this year, having agreed to throw open a vacant tract near the Burr School, Ashland and Wabansia avenues. On the lot pupils of the school will first be encouraged to dig vegetable gardens, reserving the school playground for amusement purposes. A vacation school will be maintained by the Playgrounds committtee of the Women's clubs at the Burr School.

LEFT BY LORIMER TO FIGHT IT OUT.

Lieutenants Receive No Orders from Chief, Who Starts for Washington.

MOVE IS A SURPRISE.

Taken as Indicating That Hopkins May Use His Own Devices for Delegates.

CANDIDATES FOR HOUSE.

William Lorimer started from Chicago for Washington yesterday. He left no instructions for his lieutenants, neither did he indicate when he would be back. It is presumed he will return before the Republican primaries next Monday.

Naturally the departure of the Chairman of the County committee on almost the eve of the convention started all sorts of gossip. The fact that he had gone away without indicating any preference between Lawson and Healy as candidates for the nomination for Sheriff was taken as meaning he did not care to take part in the controversy.

More important yet was the significance attached to the move by the people who are interested in the Senatorial fight. It was seemingly believed by the politicians who are opposed to instructions for Hopkins or any one else that Lorimer had gone away and left the Congressman from Aurora to do the best he could with the Cook County delegates.

Many Opposed to Instructions.

It has been pretty well established by this time that John M. Smyth and Fred Blount are opposed to instructions of any kind as to Senator at the State convention. It is also acknowledged that State's Attorney Deneen and T. N. Jamieson are opposed. That Fred Busse, James Pease, and Henry L. Hertz will fight any instructions is known. Sheriff Magerstadt is also reported to be of the same mind. With this kind of a lineup, if Mr. Lorimer still intends to help out Congressman Hopkins at Springfield, about all he would have to deliver would be the Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirty-Fourth Wards. Lincoln Park Commissioner Hirsch is hoping to bring in a few extra ones from the Twenty-Fifth, but the politicians do not think well of his chances.

Rival to Frank C. Farnum.

Christian C. H. Zillman of the Thirteenth Ward, a young lawyer, was sprung by the "New Republican club" of the ward during the day as a candidate for member of the Lower House of the Legislature from the Nineteenth Senatorial District. He was put forward as opposed to Frank C. Farnum, who also lives in the Thirteenth Ward and whose record was so bitterly condemned in the report of the Voters' league.

Extra Candidate in Lake County.

News came from Waukegan that an independent candidate for the Legislature would be nominated in Lake County to oppose George R. Lyon, the Republican candidate for the Lower House. The name of the nominee has not yet been decided on, but it will probably be A. K. Stearns, who was a candidate against Lyon in the Senatorial convention.

PLEDGE TO REFORM TREASURY.

Democrats Propose a Promise to Cut Off All Extra Emoluments from Fat County Office.

The Democratic managers have conceived a plan whereby they think they can make much trouble for the Republicans. It is to frame a platform pledging their candidate for County Treasurer, if elected, to turn over all the fees and emoluments of his office to the county, contenting himself with the bare salary. Exactly how the program is to be carried out, and whether it is to be made in good faith or simply as a campaign trick, is not stated, but the Democrats argue that if they do it they will either force the Republican candidate to make the same promise or defeat him at the election.

At the meeting of the Democratic County committee today Chairman Carey and his friends will attempt to finish the elimination of Robert E. Burke as a party leader begun at the meeting of the Executive committee last Friday. It was generally taken for granted that the program proposed by the Executive committee will go through the full committee without serious opposition. Carey, Loeffler, Gahan, Quinn, and others had a caucus in City Clerk Loeffler's office during the afternoon, and after it was over said they had votes to spare, while from Burke's headquarters came the word that there would be no opposition.

The plan proposed is to vest all power formerly lodged in Burke as secretary in Chairman Carey and the Executive committee, and even to rent headquarters if Burke does no yield up the present lease, which is in his name. The primaries are also to be called, presumably for June 13, with the convention the following day.

COMBINED BRIDGE PLANTS TO BE NEAR STEEL WORKS.

Probable Location on Lake Front Adjacent to Big South Chicago Plant—Land Already Owned by Corporation.

The new $3,000,000 plant which is to be built in Chicago by the American Bridge company will probably be located on the lake front near the mills of the Illinois Steel company at South Chicago.

There is considerable land around South Chicago which is owned by the constituent companies of the United States Steel corporation, and it is believed that some of this has been picked out.

All the various mills owned by the American Bridge company are to be consolidated in the one great plant, including everything west of Pittsburg except the Toledo mill. The ground covered will be a mile in length, and it is proposed to handle everything by machinery throughout the entire length of the works. By being near the Illinois Steel company a railroad haul on material is saved.

Chairman E. H. Gary of the Steel corporation was out of the city yesterday. In his absence no one knew of the particulars of the new plant. A rumor that it was to be built at Indiana Harbor was denied, as it was said that the land already owned by the steel trust would undoubtedly be taken.

MORTON'S BODY IS TAKEN WEST

Funeral of the Ex-Cabinet Officer Will Be Held at His Old Home in Nebraska City Today.

The body of J. Sterling Morton, accompanied by the members of his immediate family and a dozen close friends of the deceased, was taken from Lake Forest yesterday to Arbor Lodge, Nebraska City, where the final rites will be held at 2 o'clock today.

A special train on the Northwestern carried hundreds of Mr. Morton's friends to Lake Forest to attend short services at the residence of Mark Morton. The Rev. Dr. James G. K. McClure preached the funeral sermon.

At the close of the services the remains were placed on a special Burlington train to be taken to Nebraska. On board the train, besides the three sons of the deceased, Joy, Paul, and Mark, their families, and Miss Emma Morton, were: James H. Eckels, L. O. Goddard, Rockwell King, Thomas Miller, W. C. Cotter, C. S. Merritt, Nathaniel Brown, and E. F. Gorton.

CAPTURED IN POKER GAME

PRISONER ACCUSED OF DEFRAUDING MANDEL BROS.

David Hass, Charged with Passing Two Forged Checks Representing $750, Arrested While at a Table with a Quantity of Red, White, and Blue Chips in Front of Him—Joseph Simons, Wanted for Issuing Bogus Paper, Caught in Arizona.

After having succeeded twice in passing forged checks at Mandel Bros., David Hass, 4637 Evans avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon while sitting at a poker table in Fifty-third street, Hyde Park. The forgeries amounted to about $500. The arrest was made by H. C. McGaffrey, a house detective for the Mandel establishment.

The prisoner, who is also known as Samuel Hess and Samuel Rosenthal, offered a check for $225 at Mandel's last August. The check was signed by Richard M. Levy, and was drawn on Foremen Bros.' Bank. Hass indorsed the paper as Samuel Hess.

The check was returned, but no trace of Hass was found until Monday afternoon, when he made a small purchase and offered a check signed by Randall & Landfield, cigar dealers at Lake and State streets. This check was for $250 and was drawn against the First National Bank, indorsed by Samuel Rosenthal. With the exception of the amount of a small purchase, the face value of the check was paid to Hass. This paper also was returned.

When McGaffrey found Hass yesterday he was playing cards and had a large quantity of red, white, and blue chips in front of him. He asked to be allowed to finish the hand he was playing, and then accompanied the detectives to the Central Police Station. There he was locked up under two charges of obtaining money by forged paper. He refused to discuss the case. He was removed to the Harrison Street Station, where he will have a hearing this morning.

Word was received yesterday at detective headquarters of the arrest in Flagstaff, Ariz., of Joseph Simons, wanted in Chicago on a charge of forgery. Simons is connected with an attempt to pass a worthless check for $568 on the Metropolitan National Bank which bore the stamp of the Board of Fire Underwriters and the forged signature of the secretary and treasurer of this board.

SCHOOL AWARDS AT THE FAIR.

Anniversary of the Educational Work of the Big Store Celebrated—Prizes for Cash Girls.

Among the many events which claim the notice of Chicago people—especially that portion of Chicago's population interested in progress, advancement, and methods of practical philanthropy—none will appeal with more convincing force than will the exercises commemorating the eleventh anniversary of the establishment of the Fair School for Cash Girls.

During the last year, as in the previous ten years of the school's existence, the goal has been perfection—not only in mental achievement but in courtesy to comrade and teacher as well as employer and customer—in nimbleness of feet and finger as in adroitness of comprehension and speed of application.

Tuesday, April 29, had long been planned for by the eager little cash girls, whose pride in their entertainment is commendable as well as beneficial, resulting in closer application to lessons and store duties.

There were six prizes offered—one for deportment, two for comparative excellence in mastery of lessons, one for attendance, one for the greatest general progress during the year, and one for neatness and politeness of demeanor. The prizes awarded were: Three $2.50 gold pieces, two books, and a large box of candy. The desire to be the winner of one of these rewards of honest merit and to receive the approval of teacher and employer makes earnest, alert business women of the erstwhile "cash girls."

Yesterday, as on each anniversary of the school, each girl received a rose. One of the prettiest features of the exercises was the "Rose Song," sung by one of the cash girls who gives promise of musical ability above the ordinary.

Eugene Field's "The Gingham Dog and the Calico Cat" was given by a mite of a girl, whose perception and grasp of the humor of the conception were interesting.

Mrs. French Galligher, the able, conscientious woman who has been with the school in the capacity of teacher since it was established, finds the results of the work more encouraging from year to year, as modern thought meets modern need of these girls and close companionship with the work suggests new methods of meeting difficulties arising from nationality or environment.

At the conclusion of the program the girls were served with ice cream and cake—not the least interesting portion of the entertainment to them.

EXPECTS HASTE ON POSTOFFICE

Congressman Mann Declares His Resolution Will Induce Speed on the Federal Structure.

Congressman James R. Mann, who is home from Washington looking after his fences, said yesterday that he was confident that his recent resolution concerning Chicago's new federal building would hasten work on that structure.

"I satisfied myself," he said, "that the long delay was inexcusable and could be accounted for only on the ground that there was something wrong. Contracts run for two or three years on work that could be completed in half the time. The structure should have and could have been finished and occupied long ago.

"The contracts for the interior finishings have not been let. I understand the plans even have not been made or bids advertised for. The architect and contractors are greatly exercised over the prodding they have been getting and are promising to do better in the future."

Mr. Mann is of the opinion that Congress may continue its session well into the summer. He thinks there will be no adjournment until the important measures have been disposed of.

"It will require more than one session of Congress to overhaul our tariff laws, however," he said. "But the 20 per cent reduction on Cuban sugar and tobacco cannot be regarded as tinkering with the tariff. We will not feel it. That much is due the Cubans and we must give it to them."

Congressman Mann will remain at home until after the Second District and State Republican conventions, on May 7 and 8 respectively.

LONGER TERMS FOR "MEDICS."

State Board of Health Committee Would Add Two Months to Each Year.

The course of studies in medical colleges of Illinois may be extended eight months over the present required minimum of four years, if the plans of the State Board of Health's Committee on Administration are adopted. The committee met at the Great Northern Hotel yesterday and formulated plans. Two years ago the committee fixed the minimum course at four years of six months, and now it proposes to lengthen each year's course two months. If the idea is approved by the full board it will affect the senior students of all colleges in 1903.

WILL OF PERRY HULL IS FILED.

Estate Said to Be Worth $20,000 Left to Wife, She Being Made Executrix.

The will of Perry Hull was filed for probate yesterday. Attorney Edward Morris says the estate will amount to $20,000. The will was drawn on July 31, on an ordinary letterhead, and says: "I hereby give, devise and bequeath unto my beloved wife, Ella G. Hull, all of my property of every kind and description, real, personal, and mixed, and appoint my wife as executrix without bonds."

DRAGNET IS USED IN BRIBERY CASE.

Twenty-three Subpœnas Issued for Witnesses to Come Before Grand Jury.

NEW EVIDENCE SECURED.

Constable Boese, in Charge of Second Transfer Jurors, Confesses.

THIRD HEARING DELAYED.

State's Attorney Deneen threw out a legal dragnet yesterday afternoon in the form of twenty-three grand jury subpœnas to compel those cognizant of the methods used in "fixing" the two transfer juries to come before that body and testify. Neither Mr. Deneen nor Captain Herman Schuettler, who has the police end in charge, would state the names of those who will be served, but among the twenty-three are a number of employés of the Union Traction company.

It was hinted yesterday that, should the developments in the second case continue as fast as they came during the day, several of the Board of Directors and General Counsel W. W. Guerly of the company will be called to visit Mr. Deneen and talk the matter over.

Constable Boese Confesses.

Yesterday was prolific in developing valuable evidence on both "bribings." Constable Ernest Boese, who had charge of the second jury, accompanied by Frank C. Peck, 3224 Rhodes avenue, a juror in the case, appeared before State's Attorney Deneen and made a clean breast of the whole affair. With this evidence as a basis for work the subpœnas were issued and put in the hands of Captain Schuettler. The nature of the confession secured was not revealed.

Later on in the day Hammond T. Lawrence, indicted in connection with the first case and who was reported missing, was arrested, and he, too, went through the "sweating process." He remained firm in his statement that he knew nothing of the case. He appeared before Judge Dunne and gave bond for $5,000. His sureties are Alderman John Powers and A. J. Toolen, who came into court after a conference over the telephone with James T. Brady, one of the indicted lawyers.

Frank C. Peck also appeared before Mr. Deneen, but his connection with the case could not be ascertained. It has developed that several of the jurors gave false addresses and it is assumed that false names were also used. Oscar C. Voorhees, known also as "Senator," has disappeared. He was a juror in the second case.

Homer Michaels, who has been connected with the scandal, says he suggested the roll of paper as the best substitute for the "cross of pins" as a mark for favored jurors, fearing it was too dangerous to use the same method twice.

Third Case Is Dragging.

The transfer case that is being heard by Justice Walter J. Gibbons was delayed yesterday by the wrangling of the attorneys over the admission of the decision by Judge Ball as competent evidence. Justice Gibbons refused to rule out any of the matter after he had heard the arguments, leaving the subject for the jurors to decide. It is expected the case will not be completed until the close of the week.

True Bill for Dan Kipley.

After a hearing extending over five hours, the grand jury yesterday voted a true bill for murder against Daniel Kipley and a no bill against "Diamond Lil" Arlington. Kipley shot and killed Joseph Hopkins, and the woman was held to the grand jury as accessory before the fact.

Today the grand jury will take up the cases of the employment agencies which are said to be evading the license of $200 a year. The evidence that will be submitted has been gathered by the Illinois Bureau of Labor Statistics, which has the control of the agencies.

Curious things
Coffee does
to people.
Better quit if

At a convention of medical men in St. Louis the effects of coffee drinking were carefully considered. It was unanimously agreed that while coffee does not seem to injure some persons, to others it is a rank poison. The effect on different persons is, of course, very different. In some the heart is affected, in others the kidneys, again the stomach or bowels, or the eyes, and in nervous cases the prostration is spread over the whole body.

As an illustration, a man in Hinton, W. Va., experienced well defined symptoms of poisoning from coffee. He says: "I used coffee a great many years with no apparent ill effects, but about nine years ago I began being sick. I became dull, lost my ambition, had dizziness, my eyesight was very bad and kept getting worse, and at times I could hardly navigate at all; I felt I was going to fall every minute, and finally became so bad I would have to sit down and rest three or four times in a distance of twice that many blocks.

I went from one physician to another and faithfully took their prescriptions, but the case was so complex that they could not successfully diagnose it. I finally went to N. Y. City to the Vanderbilt Clinic for treatment. There my case was diagnosed as neurasthenia. Every morning about nine I would have a kind of spasm. The perspiration would break out all over the palms of my hands, and my hair would be wringing wet, every nerve in the body would be affected, and my heart would jump and beat at a fearful rate. This condition would generally last for about two hours. What I suffered no one can understand.

It finally came to me that these terrible sweats and spasms were just the same as in cases where people are poisoned and Nature tries to throw off the poison through the pores. So I concluded that something I was taking must act like a poison, and I decided it was coffee. I left it off one morning and had a fearful headache all day, a sure sign that I was being held up by a drug, so that evening I bought some Postum and the next morning had it for breakfast in place of coffee. I was surprised, for I could hardly tell it from coffee. That day I was only a little sick about the usual time, and from the next day until now, something over 13 months, I have never felt even the remotest return of the spasms.

I steadily got strong, my weight has increased from 130 pounds to 147 pounds, and I am a well man. The seven years of suffering from coffee poison will always remain with me as a horrible nightmare." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Hotels and Boarding Houses In Colorado

The popular idea is that prices in a comparatively new country like Colorado are inflated. That it costs money out there "every time you move." It isn't so. You can live in Colorado comfortably and well for a moderate sum; for $50 or $60 you can spend a delightful two weeks' vacation out there. At the hotels, boarding houses and ranches you can secure excellent quarters and capital fare for from $8 to $10 a week and even less, and we are going to sell round-trip tickets for $25.

Ask for our Hand-Book of Colorado.

It tells all about the different Colorado Hotels, Boarding Houses and Ranches, gives their charges and a whole lot of useful information besides. Call at the office for one, or allow us to mail you a copy.

NEW MORO SULTAN ALLY OF AMERICA

Mahommedans of Mindanao Elect Ruler Friendly to United States.

MEANS PEACE IN ISLAND.

Testimony in Gen. Smith Trial Shows Treachery of Samar Natives.

YOUNG BOY KILLS OFFICER.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MANILA, P. I., April 30, 9 a. m.—Datto Mandi of Tamboango, the friend and ally of the United States, has been elected Sultan of the southern and western dattos of Mindanao. Mandi was selected as Rajah Muda (or heir apparent) by the old Sultan shortly after the arrival of the American troops in the island.

In 1898 he joined the Christian settlement at Tamboanga in opposing the insurgent emissaries from the Visayas, and, with José Midel, held the strategic points in his part of the island until the Americans were able to occupy them.

Means Peace in Mindanao.

The news of his election is received here as an assurance of a pacific outcome of the present troubles. Mandi's power has been absolute over the coast of the western peninsula as far east as the Cottabato River, and his influence over the lake Moros, with whom the Americans are now embroiled, has been considerable. Whether Piang, who controls the river Moros, will yield more than nominal allegiance to Mandi is doubtful. Piang, however, is actively friendly to the United States.

Mandi is sovereign as datto over some 200,000 Moros. The Lake Moros are estimated at 500,000, under half a dozen chiefs. Piang has about 200,000 subjects.

Mandi is a half caste Spaniard, but a Mohammedan. He has but one wife.

Moro Dattos Now Friendly.

General George Davis is here from Lake Lano, Island of Mindanao, and has had an interview with nine dattos who are desirous of peace. Pappok, one of these dattos, said he did not write the defiant letter received by the Americans at the time of the massacre of the American troops. He asserted that it was written in the house of a priest, who fled on the appearance of the troops.

Captain Febiger of the Seventeenth Infantry is clearing the trails. When the reinforcements reach Samar the Americans will be near Datto Bayan and may invite the chief to a friendly conference and request him to deliver up the murderers of American soldiers, who are known to be among his forces. If he refuses the troops will demolish his fort.

Not a shot has been fired since Lieutenant Colonel Frank D. Baldwin captured the fort. The Moros are now impressed with American valor. They previously thought themselves invincible, the Spaniards not having reached the lake. It is believed that when the campaign is concluded the most satisfactory conditions will exist, that the natives will be friendly and will fast assimilate with the ways of the Americans.

Samar Boys Kill Americans.

When the trial by court-martial of General Jacob H. Smith was resumed today Pedro Bella, a boy "mascot" of Company E of the Ninth Infantry, commanded by Captain Connell, who was massacred by the Samar natives at Balangiga, testified that he saw Captain Connell's death wound given by a boy of 15.

The witness saw several other boys of the same age among the natives who took part in the massacre.

Captain Ayer, General Smith's Adjutant General, said so far as the people of Samar were concerned he met only one man worthy of respect who was sincere and honorable.

First Lieutenant Van Deman of the Twenty-first Infantry described, from the records, the treachery of the natives of Samar.

Senate Debate on Samar.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—A spirited discussion of the Philippine situation occurred in the Senate today. It revolved around the order alleged to have been issued by General Jacob A. Smith to make the Island of Samar a howling wilderness and to kill all male inhabitants over the age of 10 years.

MACARTHUR TO FUNSTON'S AID.

Former Commander-in-Chief in Philippines Declares Kansas General's Deception of Aguinaldo Justifiable.

Washington, D. C., April 29.—Before the Senate Committee on the Philippines today General MacArthur explained the statement in his annual report of June 30, 1900, that "The United States had acquired sovereignty by treaty and in a way owned the Philippine Islands, but did not own the Philippine people," by saying that these conclusions were reached after conversation with an infinite number of people and observation, and that they represented the bulk of the views of the nationalist party.

General MacArthur with considerable emphasis declared that General Funston was not responsible in any way for any of the methods which obtained in the capture of Aguinaldo.

"I am responsible in that matter in every way and particular," said General MacArthur. "It was one of the deceptions frequently practiced in war, and whatever deception attaches thereto I take."

With regard to the order for the Manila massacre, General MacArthur, answering further questions by Senator Patterson, said the order he saw was signed by Sandico, and not by Luna. General MacArthur claimed there might have been two orders. "Would you hang a yellow dog on the testimony that is paraded here as to the genuineness of those orders?" asked Senator Patterson.

The witness said it would depend on what kind of a yellow dog it was.

TAFT SILENT AS TO SMITH.

Governor of the Philippines Discusses the Water Cure, but Declines to Express Opinion on Samar Affair.

New Haven, Conn., April 29.—In his address to the students of Yale University tonight Governor Taft of the Philippines declined to express an opinion as to the order of General Jacob H. Smith to kill all natives of Samar over 10 years and to make the island a howling wilderness. He said full reports would be needed to warrant judgment.

With respect to the evidence as to the water cure and other cruelties Governor Taft said that it must be remembered that the army of 40,000 to 60,000 men, by reason of the guerrilla warfare carried on by the insurgents, had to be divided into 500 posts, many of which were commanded by First and Second Lieutenants or Captains, and sometimes by Sergeants, and that the detachments in the field far exceeded the number of posts; that this explained how it was possible, with many engagements daily, exceptional instances of such abuses might occur without typifying the conduct of the army, which on the whole was humane and considerate toward the natives.

It was not to be expected, he said, that in an army of 60,000 men there should not be brutes or weak men who would yield to the temptation of arbitrary power, and the provocation hardly to be understood of the ambush and treachery, savagery, and danger of Filipino guerrilla warfare as it was prac-

PALMA GREETED BY MASO

RIVAL OF THE PRESIDENT-ELECT PLEDGES HEARTY SUPPORT.

Leader of the Opposition Party Who Retired on the Eve of Election Welcomes the Executive of the Island Republic Near Manzanillo—That City Gives Both Men an Enthusiastic Welcome—Spanish Citizens Friendly to New Ruler.

[Copyright: 1902: By the New York Tribune.]
[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

MANZANILLO, April 29.—President-elect Palma arrived at Yara, the birthplace of the war of 1868, at 2:30 o'clock today. Bartolome Maso, an old-time friend of General Palma, but his opponent in the recent Presidential election, met him as a brother. After expressions of joy at seeing each other, President Palma presented a counterpart of the flag under which General Carlos Manuel Cespedes and General Maso began the war on Oct. 10, 1868.

General Maso spoke of his great pleasure in seeing President Palma, and called upon his hearers to let his words sink deep in their hearts. He pledged his undivided support to President Palma.

Arrival at Manzanillo.

At 3 o'clock President Palma, accompanied by General Maso, left in a private coach for Manzanillo. At 6 o'clock in the evening the party entered Manzanillo, every bell ringing a welcome. Amid the huzzahs of the populace the city officials at the City Hall tendered the freedom of the city. Gonzalo Quesada spoke for President Palma and General Maso. He recounted the enthusiastic reception given to the President, also the affectionate greeting by Gneral Maso. He was glad of it, for it would show other nations no cause for fearing trouble. Their actions should be such as to show the world there existed only one soul in Cuba, and that the life of their republic.

Debt to the United States.

He believed confidence would be restored after the news of President Palma's reception was published. He said Cuba owed a deep debt of gratitude to the United States for the glorious work done and her magnanimous gift of freedom, and if Cuba would emulate the examples set by the States Cuba's future was assured.

After the speech the party dined at the home of General Maso. Later a light luncheon and refreshments prepared by the Spanish colony was partaken by the Presidential party and many others. The Spaniards present offered coöperation and President Palma addressed them as countrymen.

NAVAL OFFICERS IN SOLITARY.

Americans in Italian Jail Refused Provisional Liberty—King Victor Expected to Pardon Them.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

VENICE, April 29.—The sentences on the American naval officers convicted here involve solitary confinement. Even provisional liberty for the imprisoned officers has been refused.

No appeal from the sentence of the tribunal imposing the sentences of imprisonment of the Americans will be filed, but the American Consul General intends to present to the King a request that clemency be extended to the prisoners, and this request, it is believed, will be granted expeditiously.

Captain Dayton refuses to grant shore leave to the officers and men of the cruiser Chicago, fearing a renewal of the disturbance.

To clear up a misunderstanding as to the actual cause of the affair which led to the conviction of the American officers, it may be stated that on the night in question two of the Americans were required to leave the Café Angele because of alleged misconduct. They were joined subsequently by three compatriots in the Piazza di San Marco. Here they created a disturbance among the guests by indulging in boxing bouts among themselves, during which chairs and tables were overturned.

When the police intervened the Americans resisted arrest, and they proved to be such strong and splendid fighters that the police were compelled to request the assistance of citizen bystanders. The fighting then became general.

FAVORS VOTE IN DANISH ISLES.

Lower House of Parliament at Copenhagen Wants All Citizens of the Islands to Express Choice.

COPENHAGEN, April 29.—The Folkething by a vote of 98 to 7 today adopted a resolution approving the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States on condition that the inhabitants of the islands declare in favor thereof by a plebiscite, similar to the one taken in 1867. The Landsthing is expected to agree to the Folkething's decision, with some minor modifications regarding the details of the plebiscite. The anti-sale element is now devoting its attention to influencing the voting of the islanders themselves.

EXPLOSION ON HOLLAND BOAT INJURES FIVE.

Sea Trip of Submarine Craft Marred by Accident—Austrian Lieutenant and Gen. MacArthur's Son Hurt.

Lewes, Del., April 29.—An explosion of considerable severity, which injured several persons, occurred on the submarine boat Fulton today as it was running into the harbor of the Delaware breakwater. The boat was bound from Brooklyn to Norfolk and was partly submerged when the accident occurred.

Bechtel, Charles, gunner; severely hurt on head and body.
Kohen, Lieutenant Oscar, of the Austrian navy; cut in head.
MacArthur, Lieutenant Arthur; cut about the head.
Miner, C. B., assistant engineer; injured about the head.
Moore, Harry, assistant engineer; cut about the head.

All the injured were sent to the United States Marine Hospital, and after their wounds were dressed they were discharged with the exception of Bechtel. He will leave the hospital tomorrow morning.

The explosion was caused by an accumulation of gas which had been generated by the storage battery.

Captain Frank Cable, Lieutenant H. H. Merrell and Boatswain Charles Berg were on deck when the explosion occurred, and signaled the the tug Storm King and yacht Mindora, which convoyed the Fulton here, for assistance. The steam launch Palacea being near also went alongside and took the injured men ashore to the Marine Hospital.

Considerable bravery was shown by Engineer Saunders. After the explosion the engines continued to work. Saunders wrapped his head and face in a wet towel and went below and stopped them.

The Fulton proved to be a good sea boat during the trip, and did not once require the assistance of her convoy. The engines ran continuously for twenty hours. Those on board were highly pleased with its performance.

POLICE FIGHT A POOLROOM MOB.

Three Detectives Hold Doorway of Raided Place Against a Crowd.

CALL HELP BY TELEPHONE

Important Marconi Central Station to Be Established on Long Island.

GENERAL NEW YORK NEWS

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE,
Washington, D. C., April 29.

Poolroom Crowd Battles with Raiding Police.

One of the most exciting poolroom raids which has ever taken place in the tenderloin was made this afternoon by Captain Michael Sheehan at 7 West Fourteenth street. During the space of ten or fifteen minutes he and three of his detectives maintained a fierce hand-to-hand fight with a mob of frantic men trying to escape from the poolroom. Though the raid terminated in the arrest of the fifty-eight men in the place, they would probably have got away had not two of the detectives fought their way to a telephone in the room, and, while Captain Sheehan watched the door, sent two hurry-up calls for assistance to the Seventeenth and Nineteenth Precincts.

Inside the room men were racing about looking for fire escapes and scuttles as means of exit. As the police swung open the door the crowd set up a roar and made for it. That it was barred by four stalwart men did not at first seem to bother the men. But as the nearer ones began to be brushed aside the crowd saw that a fight was necessary to get out that door. It prepared itself, some even taking up chairs as weapons, and began a combined assault. The second rush secured for a large number of the crowd bruised faces, but did not put them beyond the doorway.

The crowd was now desperate and careless, and was beginning to draw pocket knives, when Detective Black drew his revolver and declared he would use it on the next man that moved. Even that did not have the desired effect, so he and Underhill, seeing a telephone on the wall, began to work their way toward it, and before the act had been entirely understood by the crowd the police had been told to hurry patrol wagons to the place. When the patrol wagons arrived with fifteen policemen the crowd submitted to arrest.

Central Marconi Station to Go Up on Long Island.

Operations were begun today for the establishment of a Marconi wireless telegraph station at Sagaponack, a village a few miles southwest of Bridgehampton, L. I. The station, when completed, is destined to become the most important one in the United States, as it will be in direct communication with Sandy Hook and New York on the one side, as well as Nantucket, Cape Cod, and the north shore on the other.

Its chief value will be that incoming and outgoing liners will communicate with it with more certainty and accuracy than with any other station along the coast. A special instrument will be installed for communication with Sandy Hook, regulated for rapid communication. It will be connected with New York by wires for land communication.

Buildings have already been planned and work on them will go on simultaneously with the erection of the 190-foot mast. In the sending station there will be a gas engine which will furnish power for the dynamo which will flash the sparks. It is said that an improved selective system, more satisfactory than any used hitherto, is to be installed.

Archbishop Corrigan Weaker Last Night.

Archbishop Corrigan's condition took a turn for the worse today, and, though Father Curley, the prelate's secretary, declared the restlessness and weakness of the Archbishop had been anticipated, extra precautions were taken to insure the patient's recovery. After the consultation among the three physicians this afternoon the patient did not sleep until 9 o'clock, when he fell into a doze. He was restless all day. He is exceedingly weak. It became necessary to administer a stimulant. In order to save his strength the Archbishop was ordered not to talk. The fact that no visitors were admitted to the sickroom gave rise to apprehension. Dr. Delafield and Dr. Keyes will hold a consultation at noon tomorrow, after which a bulletin will be issued.

With the customary ceremony, Rear Admiral Crowninshield this afternoon hoisted his flag on the first-class battleship Illinois at the Brooklyn navy yard. The Illinois, which is to be the flagship of the European squadron, will sail for England tomorrow.

Captain Albers, Long in Ocean Service, Dead.

Emil L. Boas, New York agent of the Hamburg-American line, received a dispatch from Hamburg today saying that Captain A. Albers of the steamer Deutschland died this morning of apoplexy. No particulars were received, but Mr. Boas believes the stroke was brought about by the excitement incident to the recent accident to the ship.

Captain Albers was the commodore of the Hamburg-American line fleet, and had been in command of the Deutschland since it first went into commission in July, 1900.

Captain Albers made his first voyage when 18 years old on a little German schooner that cleared from Hamburg for the West Indies.

When the Fürst Bismarck made its first voyage Captain Albers was put in command. The sixty-day trips through the Orient were patronized by the wealthiest people.

Captain Albers at the time of his death was senior Captain of the fleet. His home was in Hamburg, and at every opportunity Captain Albers visited his wife and children.

Halls Provided for Recreation of Workers.

The Social Halls association has made rapid progress in its scheme for providing clean places of entertainment for the working men and women of the East Side. Architect Newton Phelps Stokes has completed two plans for the $40,000 building which is to be erected to start the scheme. About $50,000 will be paid for a site. The eight-story structure will have on the ground floor a restaurant and café, on the second floor a large hall, and on the upper floors lodge and club rooms to accommodate the numerous clubs of the East Side. A roof garden will be constructed to round out the plans.

One of the directors was asked directly today if liquor was to be sold. "We have provided for the sale of the best light wines and beer," was the decisive reply. "Our aim is to provide a clean and attractive place to drink in and to hold balls and club and lodge meetings in."

Plans have been filed with the Building bureau for a new twelve-story fireproof apartment house of limestone and brick with a frontage of ninety-seven feet and a depth of 89.9 feet, to be built for William C. Dewey of Springfield, Mass., on the lots on the south side of Thirty-first street, 100 feet west of Fifth avenue. It is to cost $500,000.

STIRS CHURCH TO PROTEST

TRANSFER OF FATHER O'MEARA ROUSES ST. AGATHA'S.

Members Meet and Denounce Removal as Caused by Father Crowley Controversy—Express Condemnation of the Authorities—Committee Named to Call on Bishop Muldoon and Urge Him to Reconsider—Archbishop to Be Visited Later if Necessary.

A protest was made last night against the removal of Father James J. O'Meara from the assistant pastorship of St. Agatha's Church, at Kedzie avenue and Douglas boulevard. Members of the church and members of the Young People's society assembled in Ryan's Hall, West Twelfth street and Homan avenue, and adopted resolutions.

Father O'Meara was notified yesterday by Bishop Muldoon that he would be required to report for duty at St. Mary's Church in Freeport within three days.

Bitter feeling was expressed against the church authorities on account of this action, and the opinion was expressed that had Father O'Meara more closely allied himself with Bishop Muldoon in the latter's trouble with Father Crowley the removal would not have taken place.

Edward A. Kennedy, President of the Young People's society, made a speech against the Bishop's action, and others spoke briefly. The resolutions declare:

"That we, the people of St. Agatha's Parish Church, deplore the fact that we are in the future to be deprived of the efficient services of Father O'Meara and express our condemnation of those who have been instrumental in bringing about the change."

A committee consisting of Homer Buckley, John Toomey, Luke Coyne, Henry P. Carmody, Patrick O'Connor, Henry Condon, Daniel Riordan, and E. A. Kennedy was appointed to call on Bishop Muldoon this evening and to request him to reconsider his decision. If Bishop Muldoon refuses to take any action, Archbishop Feehan will be appealed to, it is said.

"The Bishop has the prerogative of removing the priests when he sees fit," said Father O'Meara last evening. "I confess that I feel sorry at being obliged to leave so suddenly without any apparent cause, but I will obey my orders cheerfully."

CAPTAIN ALSIP ATTACKED IN TRIAL OF THOMPSON.

Commander of Troop E Accused by Counsel for the Lieutenant Who Is Undergoing Court-Martial.

Counter charges figured conspicuously in last night's session of the court-martial called to try Lieutenant L. C. Thompson of Troop E, First Cavalry, I. N. G., on the charges of "conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline," and "disobedience to orders." The defense made a persistent effort to question the policy of Captain Charles H. Alsip, unofficial treasurer of the troop, and the officer who brought the charges against Lieutenant Thompson. This line of retaliation was strenuously contested by Judge Advocate Whigham.

Incidentally, it was reported charges concerning Captain Alsip were mailed to the Adjutant General on Saturday night by friends of Lieutenant Thompson.

Captain Alsip made his first appearance as a witness.

"What did Lieutenant Thompson say," he was asked, "when you notified him of the order against sending letters asking people to buy ball tickets?"

"He said 'D—n it, I'm going to mail letters and date them back,'" was the reply.

Captain Alsip admitted that his relations with the accused were not friendly.

The gambling feature of the case came to view when Lieutenant John V. Clinnin, range officer at Camp Logan, told of a game of cards in the barracks there last summer. It was after taps, and those in the game were "Lieutenant Thompson and a few enlisted men." While he could not swear they were gambling, he saw some "suspicious looking dimes and quarters on the table."

BRONCHITIS
May be cured by neutralizing the germ.
All diseases may be cured by neutralizing the germ. That is to say by adopting scientific methods of attacking it.
But what are scientific remedies?
Listen.
All diseases are caused by millions of minute parasitic organisms that eat away the human flesh. Swarming myriads of these little parasitic monsters absolutely feast on the membrane and blood, thus setting up a poisonous inflammation. Thus disease is generated.
Now does it not naturally follow that to cure any disease these minute germs must be remorselessly assailed and destroyed—rooted out of the system. This is the common sense theory and it is also the scientific theory and practice.
operates. It is a pleasant beverage (put up in large bottles and 1-gallon jugs, and when absorbed into the system it literally pursues the noxious germs and executes them. When they are destroyed Nature does the rest. It gradually restores the decayed tissue and normal conditions of health and happiness returns.
Read the following testimonial.
A. C. Green, 1305 N. 3d-st., Quincy, Ill.:
"Radam's Microbe Killer was adminstered to me several years ago for chronic bronchitis, which my physician had pronounced incurable, and it resulted in my complete restoration to health. I gave a testimonial in 1898 reciting the facts and strongly recommending the remedy to all suffers from bronchial disease. This is now the 25th day of June, 1901, and I can still recommend it as earnestly as ever, not only as a cure for bronchitis but for the grip, winter cholera, etc. It never fails to do its work and to do it quickly."

Once a year the farming communities of Massachusetts living within driving distance of the sea have a general picnic. Whole families drive to the beach with laden lunch baskets and enjoy themselves. Incidentally, of course, the picnickers take a sea bath. This has led the humorous newspaper paragrapher to name this yearly picnic "The Annual Bath," and many a sly chuckle goes the rounds over the people who take a bath once a year. Mohammed has credit for the saying that "Cleanliness is next to godliness." But a greater than Mohammed upbraided those whose external cleanliness was only a cover for internal corruption. The very people who make their jokes on the "annual wash" need to have the beam removed from their own eyes. People live and thrive in spite of neglect of soap and water, but internal uncleanness is a constant menace to health.

In general the country at large enjoys an annual spring wash, endeavoring to cleanse the system from the effete substances which clog and corrupt it. Probably people would not even wash internally once a year if it were not that nature herself urged them to this act of cleanliness by the dull, sluggish feelings and lassitude which render them unfit for business or household cares. It is remarkable that those who are great sticklers for external cleanliness seem to have so little idea of the necessity of keeping the blood clean. Once a year is enough they think for this internal cleansing, and even that is often undertaken in such a superficial and unintelligent manner that it is to be doubted if much benefit results. One of the worst things for the blood is alcohol. Yet alcohol is the chief ingredient in many favorite spring medicines. It stimulates the users and makes them "feel good," but it cleanses the blood not one particle. An intelligent choice of a spring medicine would lead to the selection of one which would free the system from poisonous accumulations, and make health not a mere feeling but a fact.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is commended by its thousands of friends for the positiveness and permanence of its effects. It cleanses the blood. It increases the blood supply. It is not a mere temporary tonic, but a medicine giving permanent health. It owes none of its effects to alcohol because it contains none. It makes men and women feel well because it makes them well, and their feelings indicate their improved condition.

"For four years (during the summer months) I felt so weak and nervous that at times I would be almost prostrated," writes Mrs. Hattie H. Turbyfill, of Duncans, S. C. "My liver was out of order and I ached all over. For three years I had eczema on both my hands, which at times amounted to torture, and, added to this, were other complications. About five months before my baby was born I wrote Dr. Pierce, giving some of my symptoms, and immediately received a very kind and sympathetic reply, and, acting upon the advice given, I began taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After taking two bottles I felt decidedly better. Took six bottles of the 'Discovery,' three of 'Favorite Prescription' and four vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. When my baby was two days old I felt quite as well as ever, and the eczema has not given me any trouble since I began taking the medicine. This summer I have done all my housework and attended baby, and have not felt so well in ten years."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is unexcelled as a blood purifying preparation. It thoroughly cleanses the blood from the substances which clog and corrupt it, and cures diseases which have their cause in impure blood. It cures scrofula, sores, ulcers, swellings, eczema, boils, pimples, blotches, rheumatism and other diseases which originate in the blood's impurity.

"It has been about two months since I stopped using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes J. M. Venters, Esq., of Regina, Pike Co., Ky. "I staid down in Texas last year and contracted chills and fever while there. I came back to Kentucky and was about shaking my boots off from my feet when I commenced using it. I only weighed 149 pounds. Had been suffering with chills and fever for twelve months. Took treatment from my doctor and tried many different kinds of patent medicines, but all seemed to do no good. Since I have used four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his 'Pellets,' I feel well in every respect and weigh 186 pounds instead of only 149, my weight when I began its use."

Everyone knows how hard it is to eradicate the germs of malaria from the blood. The superior blood purifying properties possessed by "Golden Medical Discovery" are marked by the prompt cleansing of the blood from the malaria microbes. If you want a spring medicine which will not simply make you "feel good" but do you good, give you new and lasting vitality and vigor, give Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery a fair and faithful trial. It purifies the blood at any season and gives lasting strength.

Those who suffer from chronic diseases are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery. There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the blood.

WHEN BEEF GOES UP
It is well to remember that there is a substitute—and a substitute so perfect that even the feeblest stomach can digest.
MALT MARROW
is both food and drink. Beef—the flesh of the steer—is the concentrated strength of our fat Western pasture lands. Malt Marrow is the concentrated essence of the purest specially selected malt and hops. It seethes and bubbles with the stimulating juices of malted barley and possesses all the world-famed tonic properties of the hop vine. One glass of it possesses as much nutritive power as one pound of porterhouse. In this changeable spring weather Malt Marrow is invaluable for weakly women and children. A glass before retiring aids digestion, soothes the nerves, and creates new blood during hours of sleep.

ABE FRANK RUNS OUTSIDE MONEY.

Crack Bennett Colt Beaten by Blink and Aladdin in Geist Handicap.

PROVES SHORT IN GOING.

Muddy Track Causes Many Upsets to Form Players—Ed Austin Disqualified.

FINE JOCKEY COBURN $250.

Nashville, Tenn., April 29.—[Special.]—George C. Bennett, the Memphis turfman, will likely remember today for some time to come as one of the most disastrous in his experience on the turf. Abe Frank, his crack 3-year-old and pet of the stable, was defeated in the Gerst Handicap, while Ed Austin had to suffer disqualification after winning the closing event in a common canter.

It was a verification of the old axiom, "It never rains but it pours." Abe Frank's defeat can be attributed to just one thing: the colt was short and not up to a bruising contest which a trip through the deep mud entailed. Ed Austin's disqualification was due to Coburn, who tried to put the contender, Joe Martin, over the inside fence in the run up the back stretch, and even the backers of the favorite had to admit the judge's ruling was just.

It was a disastrous day for the form players, Jordan being the only favorite to finish in front during the afternoon. The going was deep and holding, and none but the dyed-in-the-wool mudlarks had any chance.

The Gerst Handicap, which called for 3-year-olds and upward at a mile and twenty yards, was the feature. Three of the eight carded declined the issue, but among those left was Abe Frank. It was the Bennett colt's first appearance here, and naturally, with his Western reputation, he proved a strong drawing card. He ran coupled with Aladdin as the Bennett entry, and the pair was always the choice at odds on.

Form Reversal for Blink.

The result proved something of a surprise, the winner turning up in Blink, who ran last in his previous start. He was off in front and was never headed. Aladdin was the runner up. He came from behind in the final furlong and finishing strongly managed to get up in time to beat Brulare a neck for the place. Then came Abe Frank two lengths back.

The last named was a tired horse at the end, but Coburn worked him out an extra furlong and covered the mile and an eighth in 1:59½. It has been common talk that Trainer MacDaniel has not done much with Abe Frank since the Tennessee Derby. It is said Coburn in his attempt to place the colt in that race tore his mouth up some and MacDaniel had to let up on him to give it time to heal up. Since his arrival here from Memphis Abe Frank's work has been confined to a mile in 1:44, and it would seem that his people started him today mainly for work. He will be moved along again on Thursday and then shipped to Louisville.

Ed. Austin's disqualification in the closing event was a hardship on his backers. The horse had been heavily played and went to the post a strong favorite. He won in a walk, and after the finish one of the handicappers remarked that he was forty pounds the best.

Old Wisconsin Coach Is Back.

Madison, Wis., April 29.—[Special.]—Coach O'Dea last night made the first important change in the makeup of the varsity boat that has been made since the men have been in hard training by taking McComb, stroke of last year's eight, out of the second boat and putting him in as stroke in the varsity in place of Stevenson, who took McComb's place as stroke in the second crew.

The famous "Koh-I-Noor" pencils are made in 17 degrees to suit all purposes.

OWENTON FIRST TO WIRE.

DERBY CANDIDATE WINS MILE RACE AT LAKESIDE.

Rogers' Colt Going Away from Field at Finish After Shaking Up Opposite Paddock—Price Cut in Future Book on American Derby—Money Muss Beats Maggie Davis in Sprint Because Dominick Outrides Little Waldo.

Owenton, J. C. Milam & Co.'s chestnut colt, by Owas—Georgia Kinney, the pride and hope of Lexington, Ky., for the American Derby, won his race at Lakeside yesterday "like a gentleman," though Dominick had to wake him up passing the paddock.

It was the third event on the card, and the $500 purse brought out three Derby candidates, Brossman's useful filly Hoodwink and Burke's Marcos, at twelve pounds below the scale. Owenton, ridden by Dominick, was a warm favorite at 1 to 2, and Dewey at 3 to 1 had a slight call over the filly for second choice. The distance was a mile.

There was some delay at the post, and Singleton on Dewey was fined $25 by Starter Dwyer for disobedience. Finally they went away to a good start and there was a rush to get to the front and secure the coveted position next the rail by all except W. Waldo on Hoodwink. He got shut off by the others before they had gone half a furlong, and then, instead of trailing the bunch and hugging the rails, took her to the outside all the way around the bend. Marcos was showing the way, but at the head of the backstretch Dewey wrested the lead.

Owenton Responds to Urging.

A furlong further, and Owenton moved up, taking command at the half mile post. Here Waldo made his run with Hoodwink, still on the outside, and she came into the stretch second, but still two lengths behind Owenton, who had drawn away from his company. Dewey was not done with, and under a hard drive he and Hoodwink challenged Owenton below the eighth post. Dominick had to warm Owenton's jacket a bit, as he hung for a few strides just as he had done in his last race at the same place, but the colt responded gamely and won, going away, by a length and a half. Singleton rode a better finish than Waldo and Dewey beat the filly for the place.

Owenton's price for the American Derby, which last week was cut from 100 to 1 to sixties, has been reduced now to 40 to 1. Before yesterday's race J. C. Rogers, principal owner of the good looking chestnut, said he had not backed his horse yet in the winter books.

A few of the best sprinters went to the post for the fourth race, a $500 handicap at five and a half furlongs, and again the odds-on favorite, Money Muss, won. This was due to Dominick's outriding little Waldo.

Dominick Outrides Waldo.

Twice as they flew through the stretch Maggie Davis almost got Money Muss, and each time as Dominick shook him up he responded with more gameness than he has been credited with. But the mare was not to be denied, and half a furlong out she looked like winning surely, until Waldo let go her head and tried to ride a whipping finish. That settled it, and Dominick, riding hard with hands and heels, brought the gelding in winner by a neck. After weighing out Waldo complained that Dominick had bumped him.

"Pa" Bradley put his first over, that is, his first on the local tracks this season. It was Mirance, in the first race, a half mile spin for maiden 2-year-olds. The talent's memory was not working. Brookston, Belle Graham, and Filly Deck carried the money, and Mirance, which ran a good second to Modern a week ago, was allowed to run loose at 15 to 1. Seaton got her away well, lay third to Filly Deck and Susie K. until a furlong from the winning post, and then made his run along the rails. It was a pretty finish, half a dozen being strung out across the track like a line of oncoming cavalry, but the Bradley filly and Cushing's Belle Graham were the strongest in the closing strides and finished in that order.

Lakeside Summaries April 29.

Weather clear; track good.

First race, ½ mile, purse $400, 2-year-olds, maidens:

Sullivan-McGovern Fight Is Off.

New York, April 29.—[Special.]—The proposed encounter between Dave Sullivan and Young Corbett, which was to have been decided at Denver on May 23, is off, Sullivan deciding to withdraw from the contest. The chief reason given for the affair falling through is that Sullivan is anxious to go abroad with Tom Sharkey.

The elongated Mr. Wright of Cleveland was all right for six innings at White Stocking Park yesterday afternoon, and then he was the other Mr. Wright. Up to that time it looked considerably as if the blues were going to give the champions another coat of whitewash as well as another defeat. Two measley hits, one of them scratchy, had been made off the ex-Dayton pitcher in those six innings and not a run could be scored. Callahan, pitching steadier but less brilliantly, had been hit for two runs.

Then the tide of battle turned, and it was Sammy Strang's bouncing triplet that started things coming Chicago's way. There was nothing doubtful about that hit. It sailed on a line straight between Harvey and Pickering and the best part of it was there were two pairs of white legs on bases waiting to canter home. They finished pulled up and the score was tied. A moment later Jones pushed a single to left and the game was won.

Although there were more errors made than in any previous game at the South Side grounds this year, it was a well played contest, and the misplays cut little figure in the result, for each stagger was followed by the sharpest kind of work to retrieve it and the effort was usually successful. Bradley, for instance, made a "three base error" off an easy chance from Daly's bat which gave the champions a splendid chance to score in the fourth, but the long third baseman extended himself to the limit on Isbell's foul close to the grand stand and caught it, spoiling the opening. That was only a sample.

Wright Wrong in a Pinch.

Although Callahan was hit harder than his young rival, his was the better game because he was all there when the pinch came, and that was in nearly every inning. Wright gave six passes to first to Callahan's one, and it was his lack of head work that helped win the game in the seventh. He had pitched two strikes to Strang just before Sammy made that eventful hit, and with three balls to waste it was bad baseball to put the next one right across the pan, for Strang was waiting for just that kind.

The champions had a man or men on bases in every inning except the fifth. This was mainly due to passes or to errors by the Blues, but the hit which transforms opportunity into realization was long in coming. The only safe ones culled by the White Sox were by Green in the first inning after two were out, and by Davis in the sixth, which was nullified by his being caught stealing in an attempted hit and run play with Mertes.

The visitors were having almost as difficult a time in connecting with the home plate, but had been a little more fortunate because they were hittting the ball harder. Not until the fifth inning could they break the ice. Then it was only at the last instant. Bemis opened the inning with a clean double to left along the foul line. Wright dropped a bunt, which advanced the runner to the last corner, and the stone wall infield played close in to cut off the run. Pickering hit a sharp one toward second. Davis reached for it, gathered it in, and retired his man at first, holding Bemis at third meanwhile. It seemed as if Jimmy would get out of another small hole, but McCarthy destroyed the illusion by smashing one straight at Callahan, and so viciously that Jimmy could not even block it, and the run scored.

Narrow Escape for Callahan.

In the sixth he got out of a still smaller opening. Green's muff gave Shreck a life at first. Bonner advanced him with a bunt, Bradley secured the single pass issued by Callahan and Davis fumbled Gochnaur's blunder which seemed good for a double play. The sacks were full with only one out, but when Bemis lifted a tall foul it was all over, for Strang camped under it and Wright was an equally easy individual. In the next inning the Blues doubled their score. Pickering dumped a safe bunt toward third. McCarthy sacrificed neatly. Harvey was disposed of by Daly, but Shreck delivered the goods with a clean single into Mertes' territory. Bonner also singled, but it was wasted when Bradley fanned.

In their half of the same inning the White Sox came to life. Daly began it badly with a strikeout, but Isbell bunted along third base foul line and beat it easily. Sullivan was allowed to walk. Callahan flied to McCarthy close in and Jack figured he could catch Isbell off second by a snap throw. He snapped, but the ball went past both Bonner and Shreck to the bleachers before it could be recovered. The runners advanced but the misplay cut no figure eventually because Strang's timely triple came directly afterward. It was a corking liner straight as an arrow all the way and tied the game. Jones must have caught the inspiration for he chopped a safe one into left just too short for McCarthy, who made a running dive and barely missed a sensational catch. Jones was caught stealing second but the game was won.

White Sox Clinch the Issue.

In the eighth the Blues made a bid to tie, but failed, and the White Sox made it safer, by scoring another run. With one out, Davis was passed. Gochnaur missed Mertes' grounder, and the two runners celebrated the event by working a double steal. Daly was allowed to walk, too, and Isbell flied so far to left that Davis scored in a canter and the others moved up. Sullivan's grounder ended the scoring.

In their dying effort the visitors might have made a lot of trouble if Harvey had used better judgment on bases. After his single, with one out, he attempted to steal second, although the run was absolutely worthless. He fell an easy victim to Sullivan's right arm, and so Shreck's clean single counted for nothing. Callahan wound up the game by striking out Bonner.

Notes of the White Sox.

Bonner's bat must be pretty near the limit in size. It resembles the pennant pole closely enough to be a younger brother.

Callahan nearly spoiled a nice play in the first inning. After a good stop of Harvey's fast hit he snapped it to first without looking, and only Isbell's alertness saved an error.

Manager Nicol of the Rockford club of the Three-Eye league stopped off in Chicago on his way to open the season in Terre Haute tomorrow. He watched the game from the stand.

Jimmy Manning of the Kansas City Western league team was in the city looking for one of Cleveland's surplus pitchers. Manager Armour has promised him first choice of the castoffs.

Too much time is wasted while the umpire waits for a substitute ball after a foul is batted out of bounds. It would hurry the game up if a ball was kept ready at the call of the umpire all the time.

Cleveland closes the opening series at the South Side grounds today and the Blues will work for an even break with the champions. Joss, the big southpaw who let St. Louis down with one hit, will pitch for Cleveland.

Tom Daly was mighty frisky every time he reached a base and took long chances, but got away with them all. In the second inning he seemed to have no chance for his life when caught between third and second, but managed to elude Bonner at second.

President Comiskey left last night for Cleveland to attend the special meeting of the American league called to consider the situation which arises from the unexpected decision of the Pennsylvania courts, restraining three Philadelphia players from playing. He said he would be present at "Comiskey day" in St. Louis tomorrow, however.

Northwestern - Beloit Ball Game May Be Called Off on a Protest.

PITCHER ADKINS MAY GO.

Charge Is That Twirler for the Wisconsin School Is a Professional.

TRACK RUPTURE IMMINENT

Northwestern and Beloit athletic authorities have clashed, and the baseball game between the two schools which was scheduled to take place on Sheppard Field Saturday may be called off. The trouble has originated over the eligibility of Pitcher Adkins of Beloit who, it is claimed, is a professional. Northwestern has refused to play if Adkins is in the game, and Beloit is to give an answer today. The two coaches have held several conferences this week in an effort to patch up the trouble.

Besides the ball game the two schools have scheduled a dual track meet Saturday, and the wrangle over Beloit's amateur standing may result in this event being called off also. Although Beloit is not a member of the conference, Northwestern joined with Chicago in arranging for contests with her on the stipulation that the amateur standing should be maintained.

In spite of the hitch in the proceedings Holister and Hempel are giving their men the hardest work they have had this year in preparation for Saturday's events. The track men will have their first opportunity to show their caliber. The runners are in good shape, with the exception of Captain Morris, and some good time was made in practice yesterday by Stahl and Baird.

It is with the field men that Hempel is doing his hardest work. Davis is showing up well in the broad jump, but in the other events the school is lamentably weak. Northwestern can hardly hope to win a point in the pole vault or high jump.

Another Western interscholastic field meet is to be held under the auspices of the Northwestern University next year. The success of the event last Saturday, which bad weather threatened to prevent altogether, has resulted in the determination of the athletic board of control to make the event a yearly feature. In reaching this decision the views of the young athletes who competed were taken into consideration.

Second Game in Baseball Series Today—Track Men Prepare for Dual Games on Saturday.

The University of Chicago baseball team, encouraged by the victory of last Saturday at Marshall Field, will face the University of Illinois at Champaign this afternoon. Director Stagg and eleven men will journey to the home diamond of the Illini, with a determination to put up as hard a fight as the one which brought success last week.

Upon the outcome of the second game between Chicago and Illinois depends a great deal the championship race in the "big nine." If Illinois loses the second game with Chicago, its chances will be far from good. Captain Harper said yesterday that if Chicago should win he felt it would be hard to head off the maroons.

Chester Ellsworth will again pitch for the maroons, and Captain Lundgren probably will be on the slab for the Illini. Tom Howe, the pitcher, and Pratt, the infielder and pitcher, will be the extra men taken by Stagg.

Track men were hard at work yesterday at Marshall Field preparing for the dual meet with Illinois Saturday. Speik showed some improvement in throwing the hammer and Kalamatiano ran a mile in try-out time. One of the most interesting events will be the 100-yard dash between Bell of Illinois and Blair of the maroons.

BERLIN IS NOW THE CHAMPION.

South Paw Bowler of Sheridan League Finishes First in Illinois Bowling Association Tournament.

Joe Berlin, the veteran south paw of the Sheridan league, last night won the individual championship of the Illinois Bowling association after the most exciting finish in the local history of the game, not excepting that of last year, when Fred Worden captured the honors at the eleventh hour.

Bowling with the last squad, Berlin needed a strike with his last ball and nine pins to tie Bruck of the Unity league, who led on Monday.

He was plainly nervous as he started for the foul line, and, losing his stride, he kept the ball in his hand. After a pause he again started, and although he again appeared to get his feet mixed he let the ball go. Even the ball appeared to be nervous as it traveled towards the head pin. It was not a strike ball, but, catching the pin on the right side, it toppled it over, and while the right side of the pyramid was swept into the alley the remaining pins after a slight pause fell in a heap. When it was seen that Berlin had won the large crowd of fans, whose interest had been wrought up to fever heat, broke loose with a wild cheer, and the winner, who was trembling with the strain of the close finish, was compelled to hold an impromptu reception. # BIG GOLF TOURNEY IS BEGUN.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, April 29.—Play in the amateur golf championship opened at Hoylake today. Twenty-eight players went off in the first round. Twenty-four drew byes and will enter the second round this afternoon. The weather is splendid.

A good many players are using the American patent ball. Among the competitors are John Ball and Robert Maxwell.

Hilton, the present champion, gave evidence of being out of form. He succeeded in defeating Blaine only after they had a tie at the twenty-first hole.

DOCTOR SWEANY.
Longest Established, Most Successful and Reliable Specialist in Diseases of Mankind, as Medical Licenses, Diplomas and Newspaper Records Show.

You should consider thoroughly the factors of skill, experience, reliability, etc., of a Doctor or Specialist before entrusting to him your health; the perfect and lasting recovery of which means so much to future life and happiness. You should also consider the destructive after effects of surgical procedures upon the blood vessels of important organs. You should consider the quick cure illusion and free cure fallacy as an intelligent man would consider a business proposition. You do not want to be mutilated and maimed for life in trying to be cured of Varicocele and kindred troubles in a few days. The trouble is not so much that you have contracted diseases or weaknesses, but that you have neglected yourselves or have been made worse by surgical procedures or improper treatment. I guarantee my patients a

HOPKINS ROUTED IN PIKE COUNTY.

Convention Refuses to Pledge Support and Majority Is Against Him.

FAINT PRAISE OF YATES.

Resolution Demanding Civil Service System in State Positions Is Adopted.

HITS AT GOVERNOR'S PLAN.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Pittsfield, Ill., April 29.—[Special.]—Yates, the State administration, and Hopkins went to a cleaning in the Pike County Republican convention today.

Conditions here have changed greatly since two years ago, when Pike was the first county in the State to instruct its delegates for Richard Yates for Governor, and beyond that prominent Pike Republicans even went over into Adams County two years ago and were instrumental in Yates' success there. Today his appointees and officeholders begged for one line of indorsement, and that is all they got. For that line they were willing to toss Hopkins in the air, or in fact any one else. And after the resolutions gave that little indorsement the convention proceeded to take a soak at the Executive by the adoption of the following:

"We are in favor of placing all our State charitable institutions under one board of management and under civil service reform."

Brief Mention of Administration.

And here is the line that the Yates people begged for most humbly:

"We cordially indorse the State administration of Governor Yates and our other State officers."

Yates cared nothing about the other State officers, but the Resolutions committee insisted upon tacking that indorsement on the Yates resolution.

The resolutions deplore the death of McKinley, congratulate the country that President Roosevelt is carrying out McKinley's policy, and cordially indorse the administration of President Roosevelt, lament the death of the late John R. Tanner, and commend the services of A. G. Crawford as Representative and of H. D. Grigsby as a member of the State Central committee. The following indorsement also was given:

"We indorse the services of United States Senators Cullom and Mason for their zealousness in promoting the interests of the State and nation."

Tazewell Republicans Divided.

Pekin, Ill., April 29.—[Special.]—The Republicans of Tazewell County are torn asunder in a bitter strife between the supporters of Congressman Joseph Graff and the young Republicans, who are in favor of the nomination of W. J. Conzleman for Congress from the Sixteenth Congressional District. The opposing factions held primaries this afternoon and selected delegates to the Tazewell County convention, which will be held here on Thursday, May 1. The indications are that there will be a hot fight on the floor of the convention when the two sets of delegates present their credentials. The Conzleman Republicans are strongly in favor of Governor Yates, while the other faction, headed by Judge Curran, Senator Albertsen, and Postmaster Kuhle are bitterly opposed to Yates. So far the anti-Yates people are in control.

AWAIT LAKE VIEW'S DECISION.

Lincoln Park Commissioners Favor an Extension to the North, but Want Voters to Pass on Plan.

In regard to the proposed extension of Lincoln Park to the north members of the commission think it advisable, but declare they have no intention of taking any action except with the approval of the people of Lake View.

The board at its last meeting adopted the following statement, introduced by Commissioner Bryan Lathrop:

"The Lincoln Park Commissioners have for a long time realized, what must have been apparent to everybody, that Lincoln Park was much too small to accommodate properly the large population which uses it. The only way in which the present boundaries can be enlarged is by filling in the submerged land of the lake toward the east under the authority of the boulevard act of 1895. It has been decided by the Supreme Court that the riparian owners have no right to fill in the submerged land. This decision had a material effect on the value of these lands, and for this reason it should be possible, by acquiring the narrow strip bordering on the lake between Diversey and Belmont avenues and by filling in the submerged land to the line of the boulevard extension, 1,200 feet, to add a large tract to the park at comparatively small cost.

"The only way in which the funds could be procured would be by an issue of bonds, and to make such issue the consent of the town authorities was necessary

"No purchase was to be made until after a price had been placed on the property by the Valuation committee of the Real Estate board. If no agreement could be made as to the market value condemnation proceedings were to be resorted to under the statutory power.

"The commissioners have taken no action in regard to issuing any part of these bonds and have no intention of doing so except with the approval of the people of Lake View by referendum or by general petition.

"Lake View is the only town in Chicago which has no debt. If the proposed consolidation with the city takes places Lake View will assume its proportion of the debt of every other town. If it issues bonds before the consolidation they will become part of the general debt of the city and Lake View will be burdened with only her proportion of them, which would be small.

"It is for the people of Lake View to determine whether they will avail themselves of this privilege, as every other town has done, and acquire an extension of the park within their boundaries for their rapidly growing population or lose the privilege by failing to act before their town is abolished."

ROOSEVELT TO AID THE GAMES.

President Promises to Attend the Opening of the Olympian Contests Here in 1904.

President Roosevelt will attend the opening of the international Olympian games in this city in 1904. He made this promise last night to Henry J. Furber Jr. and Benjamin J. Rosenthal, who went to Washington to extend the invitation. The President indicated a disposition to do all in his power to further the efforts of the Olympian association. He entered enthusiastically into the spirit of the proposed exhibitions, and gave particular attention to the military exercises which are to be a prominent part in the games.

DISPUTED DOG PICKS ITS MASTER IN COURT.

A bulldog was brought before justice yesterday and both the dog and the blind goddes profited by the meeting. In one scale was the claim of the dog's last owner; in the other that of his newest master. Justice Martin called the dog to the witness stand and asked it which of the scales was the heavier. The dog wasn't long in deciding. It showed its teeth to its newest master and wagged its tail fondly to the lost owner. Justice Martin then ordered the bailiff to turn the dog over to Edward Smith of 55 Wells street, but the dog, waiting for no formal transfer, jumped into its lost master's lap. Then Edward Ebinger, who had cared for the dog for the last 14 months, went dogless to his home in Fullerton avenue. The dog was brought into court on a writ of replevin. Fourteen months ago Dude, for that is the animal's name, although Thug might seem more appropriate, wandered from its home of five years and finally appeared at Ebinger's house. There it seemed contented to remain till yesterday, when Smith located it, and Constable Spiro was sent to bring the dog into court. Spiro took one look at the dog, then attached it to the end of a long pole and marched it to Justice Martin's court. Ebinger made no objection, except that he refused to part with the dog until convinced that Smith was the rightful owner. The dog gave its testimony, which was corroborted by Frank Kennedy, who said he and the dog were old friends, having met often at Smith's restaurant. The above picture of Mr. Smith and his dog also was produced in court.

Will be withdrawn. Selections made today will be delivered at any time desired. By this arrangement we hope to accommodate many contemplating a change of residence.

Sixth Floor Main Store.

MARSHALL FIELD & CO.

Popular-Priced Trimmed Millinery.

Today's collections in each of the divisions of this great salesroom are an admirably complete gathering of the prettiest and choicest styles we have yet displayed in these practical, popular priced hats—just such a gathering as will enable everyone to make a pleasing, becoming and attractive selection at prices that will be found in every instance to be extremely low.

Annex Second Floor.

$15.00—A special collection of fine trimmed hats in the best favored styles; most of them are from our own workrooms, and are exceptional values at this price.

$7.50—Desirable hats for street or dress occasions, made from unusually good serviceable materials, and trimmed in a great variety of pretty styles.

Shirtwaist Hats—made from all the plain and fancy braids—in smart, decidedly new styles, $2.75, $3.75, $5.00.

TWO STRIKING NOVELS OF "MASTERLY REINCARNATION."

DOROTHY VERNON OF HADDON HALL.

MR. CHARLES MAJOR'S new love story shows again that "intuitive sympathy with the wholesome sentiment of the mass of American readers" which, says the Mail and Express, brought his "When Knighthood Was in Flower" "To the Crest of the Wave" of popular fiction "Through its direct and forceful appeal to their love of the romantic."

DOROTHY VERNON is an Elizabethan maid, but . . . A living, loving, loveable girl. She will appeal more potently, we think, to the popular imagination than did even the heroine of the earlier book, because she is depicted in more vigorous lines and stronger colors.

MR. MAJOR, adds the Critic, has discovered what potent implements are language and style in the creation of romance, and he has mastered their use. . . . But the romance remains the thing with this author; it is the very root as well as the flower of his gift."

"DOROTHY VERNON," says the Baltimore Sun, "is a fine piece of character drawing . . . will find favor in the eyes of thousands of readers, and among historical novels of its class it must deservedly take high rank."

Illustrated with Full-page Reproductions of Drawings by Howard Chandler Christy.
369 pages. 12mo. Gilt tops in decorated cloth binding. $1.50.

THE CONQUEROR
BEING THE TRUE AND ROMANTIC
STORY OF ALEXANDER HAMILTON

MRS. GERTRUDE ATHERTON'S New Novel certainly has its full share of one characteristic quality of her work--that of arousing heated discussion. "Brilliant," "clever," "original," "absorbingly interesting," are a few of the adjectives showered upon it by critics who find it that rare thing, "A book of fiction which does not take liberties with facts," yet with chapters "more strange and more dramatic than any that belong to a modern sensational novel." "Full of vigor and fascination" is a constantly recurring phrase; but one reviewer finds most of its pages "utterly dreary and wearisome."

The Philadelphia Ledger calls attention to the paradoxes of the book, but also to "the genuinely romantic and picturesque interest of the narrative." The opening chapter is a tenderly poignant idyl, while her accounts of the fatal duel and the deathbed scene are intense and convincing bits of work."

"A book that no American can afford to neglect," says another critic, while many predict that the success of this unusual book will revolutionize the writing of modern historical fiction.

The Proposed Lincoln Park Bonds. Some Lake View property-owners believe or affect to believe that the Lincoln Park board is endeavoring to issue, without the consent of the people, $500,000 in park bonds, to be a lien on the property of the town. To prevent this financial danger one Lake View property-owner has applied to the courts to enjoin the issue of any bonds. There is no excuse for the stir which is being made about the bonds in question. The statement made recently by the Lincoln Park Commissioners, which is republished in the local columns today, is too plain to be misunderstood by any intelligent person. The park must be enlarged to accommodate the people of Lake View. Bonds must be issued to provide the money. The consent of the town authorities to the issue of bonds was asked for because, after the consolidation of the towns, it will be necessary to go to the Legislature for authority, but the commissioners have said emphatically that they did not intend to issue the bonds in whole or in part except with the approval of the people of Lake View by referendum or general petition. The intention always has been to do nothing which was distasteful to the people, but to consult them before taking final action. The Lincoln Park board has shown itself so deserving of public confidence that its explicit statements about this bond question should have hushed the insensible clamor which is still heard in Lake View. If the people do not wish for a larger and better park it will not be thrust upon them.

The Genesis of "Little Breeches." People have not yet forgotten Mr. Hay, the literary man, in Mr. Hay, the statesman. Treaties with England may be more important than ballads from Pike County, but they are by no means more entertaining. One is glad, therefore, that Mr. Hay has found time to tell an interviewer just how it was that he came to write "Jim Bludso," "Little Breeches," and "Banty Tim." "Little Breeches," it appears, was what might be called the mother-ballad. It was the first of the series, and led to the others. Mr. Hay first heard the story of it on a hot Sunday morning when he had gone to church and sat listening to a drowsy sermon. The minister knew the story and told it. He told it in the Pike County phraseology and from the Pike County point of view. That phraseology and that point of view is the same, says Mr. Hay, in Pike County, Illinois, and in Pike County, Missouri, just across the river. As Mr. Hay went out of the church he carried with him a deep impression of the story he had heard. On his way down to New York he put "Little Breeches" into verse. When he reached New York he showed the poem to Whitelaw Reid. It appeared immediately in the New-York Tribune. By that time Mr. Hay had got the swing and rhythm of the ballad form and within a week turned out "Jim Bludso," "Banty Tim," and the rest. Then, curiously enough, his inspiration stopped suddenly. He could do no more Pike County ballads. Mr. George Cary Eggleston, then editing a weekly, offered him what was in those days a large sum of money for another poem in Pike County style, but he was unable to accept the opportunity. The Pike County ballads were a phase, an episode. The impulse came, staid about ten days, and then left. At least, that is the way Mr. Hay puts it. One may suspect, however, that perhaps Mr. Hay was wiser in his generation than some of his successors have been in theirs. He may have realized the foolishness of working a single vein too long. There are certain literary men who, if they had been lucky enough to make a hit with "Jim Bludso," would have been writing a Pike County ballad every week ever since. Fortunately, Mr. Hay did nothing of that kind. He wrote ballads as long as he felt he could write them well, and no longer. He did not sell the lees and dregs of his imagination.

THE ABSURD DUTY ON HIDES.

Hides were on the free list from 1872 to 1897. The ability of the American leather manufacturers to get their raw material free enabled them to build up a great export trade. In 1890 Mr. McKinley, then chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means, was urged to put a duty on hides. He was wise enough to refrain from doing so, for he knew such a duty would work to the injury of home industries. He was confirmed in his determinaton by a letter from James G. Blaine, pointing out the bad effect of such a duty on trade relations with the hide-exporting countries of South America. Mr. Dingley, less wise than Mr. McKinley, put such a duty in his tariff act of 1897.

His object was to please the cattle-raisers by showing them that Congress was not forgetful of them. Probably they were pleased. Some of them had been asking for a duty on hides under the impression that it would put money in their pockets. In exceptional years like the present the beef trust may be benefited. Ordinarily nobody is helped by the duty on hides. At all times the leather and shoe industries of the country are harmed.

The United States does not and cannot produce the different qualities of hides the leather manufacturer needs. For one kind of leather he must have hides from Argentina or Uruguay. A duty on hides does not stimulate domestic production, but adds to the cost of leather and of shoes. It so happens that the shoes which the working classes mostly buy are the ones that are chiefly affected by the tax on hides.

Mr. Roberts, a Massachusetts Republican, has introduced a bill to take off the duty on a raw material which has to be obtained in great part from other countries. The shoemaking City of Lynn is in Mr. Roberts' district. He knows the needs of the immense industry carried on there. His bill will not pass. Congress will do nothing with the tariff now. But the duty on hides will have to go. It is a duty which promises protection, but does not give it. It is indeed a duty which works injury to important industries. It is one of the many "blots on the 'scutcheon" of the Dingley tariff act.

A JAPANESE UNIVERSITY FOR WOMEN.

For some years now the Japanese student has been a familiar figure in many American universities. His inquisitiveness and his intelligence have made him popular. The only fault found with him has been that, like Laertes, he always left his sister at home while he himself went forth to behold the world and finally to return with a store of knowledge and experience. Japanese women have seldom come to this country.

A change may be expected in the near future if the new Japanese university for women, lately founded at Tokio, turns out to be successful in filling its students with a desire for further study. The fact that such a university has been founded is in itself significant. The Japanese recoil from no innovation which seems likely to increase their national strength. They scrutinize the whole world and pick out from it the things they think will be of most value to Japan. This trait of theirs was strikingly illustrated in the speech Count Okuma made at the opening of the new university. "We have noticed," he said, "that all countries, like Turkey, Persia, India, and China, which have attempted to work with the male sex alone on a kind of single standard and have met with disaster. We think that Japan should avoid this mistake. We should have a double standard. We should use our women as well as our men."

It was with thoughts such as these that six years ago the first conference was held in Tokio for the purpose of laying plans for a university exclusively for women. Mr. Naruse, who had written a book on "The Duties of Women," was the head of the movement. He had studied at Clark University in this country and had visited all the women's colleges in the North. He had devoted himself definitely to the work of securing a higher and better education for the women of Japan. He had already established two schools for girls. He was now anxious to establish a university into which those girls could graduate. He was encouraged by Marquis Ito and other prominent men. He opened a subscription list. This is noteworthy. The new university is not a government enterprise. It is the result of private benefactions. Against many discouragements Mr. Naruse persevered. At last 100,000 yen [$50,000] was secured and in September, 1900, ground was broken for the new buildings. In April, 1901, the buildings were completed. The plan is to spend 50,000 yen more on other buildings and to have 150,000 yen as an endowment. The total investment, therefore, will be 300,000 yen. The number of professors and instructors is now forty-six. The number of students, including those in the preparatory school, is 550. Both the professors and the students live in "halls" or "houses" similar to the dormitories at various American colleges. Each hall has its matron. The departments are three, named after the study which forms the basis of instruction in each, though, of course, many other studies are included in the general program. There is the department of Japanese literature, the department of English literature, and the department of domestic science. The plans for the extension of the work are ambitious and comprehensive.

It is hardly necessary in a case like this to speak words of commendation or congratulation. A bare recital of facts is enough. Japanese women have been known to this country mainly as geishas. Recent events have shown, however, that they also are actresses of considerable merit. The new university may perhaps prove that they can be successful in many other fields.

PENALTY OF "TOO MUCH ZEAL."

The counsel for Brigadier General Smith, who commanded in Samar, has admitted the truth of many of the grave accusations brought against that officer. He says General Smith issued orders to make Samar a "howling wilderness," to take no prisoners, and to kill all persons capable of bearing arms. The age limit fixed by the General was 10 years. The orders are not so severe as those under which Joshua acted when he captured Jericho, but they are utterly repugnant to the spirit of the age. They are orders which no American will sanction, no matter how great may have been the provocation. He who gave them has stained the glory of his country and of its army and must be punished, no matter how great may have been his services and how irreproachable his previous record. If it shall appear that General Smith was acting under the orders of his superiors, or that they knew of and did not disapprove of his sanguinary orders, they, too, must be called to judgment.

It is possible that when General Smith's side of the case comes to be heard he will give reasons why his punishment should not be so severe as it would be if he had issued the orders he did while carrying on war in a civilized country. General Smith has had to deal with the problem which has long vexed civilized soldiers when fighting with uncivilized soldiers who do not respect the amenities of war. It is easy at this distance to censure a soldier who does not deal with Filipino enemies as he would with civilized enemies. The nearer one is to Manila the milder is the censure.

General Smith may plead to the court that a Filipino boy 10 years old is a much more mature and dangerous creature than an American child of that age. It appears from evidence already given that boys in Samar 12 years old have been found slashing the soldiers with their long Rinoes and setting spear traps for them.

General Smith may plead also that he understands Filipino nature better than it is understood in the United States, and that his orders, severe as they were and contrary to the rules of modern warfare, did what gentler means could not have done—that they crushed out rebellion in Samar. Samar has been pacified. The insurgent officers and soldiers have given up their arms and promised to be "good Indians." In 1637 Massachusetts and Connecticut soldiers slaughtered the Pequots without regard to age or sex. The tribe was exterminated and there was peace in the land for thirty years. General Smith may have had in mind this New England precedent.

Talleyrand's advice was "surtout, pas trop de zèle." General Smith would have done well to heed that advice, and not be so zealous for the pacification of Samar. Less abhorrent methods would have taken more time, and would have cost more American soldiers their lives, but they might have been as effective in the long run. The army officer who respects public opinion will not overstep the rules of war even in dealing with enemies who do not know or care for them.

That officer may well pray to be delivered from service against a cruel, treacherous foe. No soldier can view unmoved the spectacle of the lacerated bodies of comrades who died of slow, ingenious, Oriental tortures. No soldier can avoid losing something of his consideration for "non-combatants" when he knows every professed non-combatant will knife him when his back is turned. The thought cannot help occurring to officer and soldier that it is better to strike so furious a blow it will not be necessary to strike again. The officer in the Philippines is sometimes "much wrought upon and perplexed in the extreme." If he err in judgment and lapse into savagery when fighting with savages he should be punished, but allowances should be made for him. Allowances will be made in every part of this country where the horrors of an Indian war are remembered.

THE FRENCH ELECTIONS.

In this country Tuesday is the accepted day of the week for most elections. In France it is Sunday. It is assumed there that electoral duties can be performed more efficiently on that day than on any other. In the United States a candidate needs, as a rule, only a plurality of the votes cast. In France the successful candidate for the Chamber of Deputies must get when there are more than two candidates in the field a majority representing a quarter of all the voters registered. Because of the multiplicity of parties there are so many candidates in some districts that a choice on the first trial is difficult. When there has been a failure to elect there is another trial two weeks later.

A second vote will be necessary in nearly one-fourth of the districts, but the result in the districts where Deputies have been chosen indicates that the Ministerialists—the supporters of the Waldeck-Rousseau Cabinet, will retain control. They have lost in Paris, a fitful and uncertain city. They have held their own in the country, where the present administration has given general satisfaction. The second ballotings will probably add sufficiently to the strength of the Ministerialists to give them the clear majority in the Chamber which they lack as yet.

The Waldeck-Rousseau ministry has managed affairs so well and has so much more governing ability than the heterogeneous groups—Nationalists, Plebiscitaries, Progressive Radicals, Independent Radicals, Socialist Revolutionists, Royalists, and Bonapartists—which oppose it that its defeat would have been prejudicial to the interests of France. Fortunately for that country, which has suffered so much from governmental instability, the present ministry apparently will remain in power, although nothing is certain in a French Chamber of Deputies and in a land where there are a dozen parties instead of two.

PROPOSED NAVAL INCREASE.

The naval appropriation bill as reported carries $77,659,386, which is more than $27,000,000 less than the Navy department asked for. It calls for the construction of two first-class battleships with the heaviest armor and most powerful ordnance of their class, two first-class armored cruisers of about 14,500 tons, and two gunboats of about 1,000 tons, also for the establishment of a naval training station at some point on the great lakes to be designated by a board of naval officers.

The proposed increase of the navy is not large. It is not intended for numerical purposes, in comparison with other navies, but for effective purposes. Chairman Foss of the House Naval committee significantly says that few of our ships have any fighting value, and that "our naval power lies almost entirely in our eighteen battleships, eight armored cruisers, and twenty-one unprotected cruisers. The rest of our ships would cut little figure in actual war." Chairman Foss evidently means a war with a first-class naval power, and from this point of view Mr. Foss has done well to point out what might prove our naval weakness. We have had no contest with a first-class power since 1812, and now conditions are so changed that inferences cannot be drawn from that war. The recent war with Spain throws no light upon the probable conditions of a war on the sea with Great Britain, Germany, or France. It is needless to make comparisons with other powers. Fortunately the United States does not have to keep up a reputation for being mistress of the seas, nor does it have to strive to exceed the navy of Great Britain, which cannot abandon the policy of a big navy without endangering its prestige and exposing itself to invasion. England may be "a tight little island," but it must keep so, and to keep so requires the most powerful floating fortresses in the world. The other naval powers of Europe must of necessity also maintain powerful navies. The United States need not compete with them. It simply needs naval power sufficient to protect its constantly growing commerce and to keep up with its new policy of territorial expansion. From this point of view the Naval committee is not unreasonable in its request. It only asks for four more first-class fighting vessels and two auxiliaries. What the navy may lack in numbers it will make up in speed, strength, and efficiency. No country can compete with this in swift ships and powerful guns.

THE CORONATION DINNER PARTIES.

There will be much wining and dining upon the occasion of the coronation of King Edward VII. There will be the royal dinner in the palace and dinners of Dukes and Earls in other palaces. There will be dinners of guilds and corporations, dinners at hotels, and many private dinners, at which the King's health will be drunk and for which huge sums will be spent, for, after all, the stomach is the main consideration, whether the event be a woman's club gathering or a King's coronation.

The dinner which the King will give for royalty, however, is dwarfed well-nigh into insignificance when compared with that which he will give for the poor of London. There will be a more brilliant display of plate, more costly viands, and more cumbrous ceremony at the former, but to the latter there will flock a vast multitude, for "the poor always ye have with you." Their number indeed is so great that strict lines of demarcation have had to be drawn lest the dinner be too big. In one borough only people who have resided in it for twelve months are to be invited. In another a wage test has been adopted, the line being drawn at 10 shillings for single individuals, 15 shillings for families of two, and 20 shilling for families above that number. In some boroughs it is proposed to exclude all who have been in receipt of parish relief. Meanwhile, it is not quite clear whether the King wishes to feed merely the deserving poor or whether he intends to let his largess be enjoyed both by the just and unjust, from the standpoint that one stomach is morally no worse than another.

After making all the deductions which have been proposed, London Truth finds that Paddington will contribute 6,000 persons; Marylebone, which has a not much larger population and fewer of the working class than Paddington, 10,000; Shoreditch, 15,000 and Islington, 60,000, or one in six of its population. The total number of those qualified for the dinner reaches anywhere from a quarter of a million to half a million, for in some of the slum districts the entire adult population will have to be provided for. The boroughs, however, will send more guests proportionately than the city wards. The least number of guests stated is 150,000.

If to this large number of adults were added the still larger number of children, who are not to be allowed to go to the dinner, the contrast between the dinners of the poor and the rich would be all the more striking. As it is, the spectacle of all these thousands clamoring to get to the King's dinner for the poor emphasizes the extent of poverty in the richest metropolis in the world, and suggests a study course for the students of social and political economy.

PICTURES FOR PATIENTS.

It is said that the County Hospital is in need of pictures with which to decorate the wardrooms and to relieve the tedium of illness. There are some who may think these are esthetic superfluities that county convalescents might well do without. But pictures have a physiological as well as an esthetic value, and if there is any time when they count for much it is when human beings are compelled hour after hour to gaze wallwards and to find there a stimulus for a sickly imagination.

Of course hospital pictures may be ill-chosen, and however beneficial representations of crucifixions and executions may be to the moral nature they are not conducive to physical well-being. Generally some bit of nature, a sea scene, or a glimpse of country life is best calculated to please minds grown weary of a medical atmosphere, but of course this is a matter of individual preferences. A certain hospital patient of nautical tastes, who daily gazed upon one of THE TRIBUNE pictures, a yacht in full sail, used so far to follow Keats' injunction to "ever let the fancy roam" as to take every morning an imaginary cruise upon the picture boat, and it is said that he wiled away some otherwise dreary hours upon this ideal voyage.

No doubt there are many persons whose storerooms are filled with the objects of an outlived esthetic adoration which might still serve as things of beauty to uncritical convalescents.

WHEN all the facts as to the Louisiana purchase are in we shall see that it included a great many mules and horses, and that Great Britain has paid rather stiff prices for them.

TO THE Attorney General: Knock, and the world Knox with you.

THE work on the Chicago Postoffice Building might be hastened by announcing that when completed the dome may be used awhile as a billboard.

"DON'T touch the tariff on raw meats! 'Twould be a sin, indeed. The tariff is a holy thing!" said little Robert Reed.

SENATOR CARMACK of Tennessee appears to be suffering from an overheated imagination.

OF course the wind blows here. How else could Chicago ever have become known as the Windy City?

ANY old resident of Vicksburg can tell you of a time in the '60s when meat of all kinds was much higher priced than now.

HOW WOULD you like to be a Congressional junketeer with an assignment to visit the various headquarters of the beef trust?

UNDER the Supreme Court methods of procedure it may take five or ten years to decide who wins the baseball championship this season.

IT is gratifying to learn that the fish hatchery at Tupelo is getting along faster than Chicago's public building.

IT would have been much cheaper if Senator Money had paid the five cents—but this is merely the cold, calculating, sordid, Northern way of looking at the matter.

ALL this time Governor Richness Yates continues to draw his salary with unfailing regularity.

TENNESSEE has 496,000 sheep, and if the farmers of that State are to be believed there is about a dog and a half for every sheep.

IF the next House of Representatives is to be Democratic, what is Colonel Watterson making all this fuss about?

THE people are disposed to take the meat trust's statements with a liberal seasoning of salt.

IT ought also to be a crime to counterfeit a beef roast.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Fits It.

"Dis h'yar place," said Uncle Zeph, who was showing his visitor through suburban St. Louis, "is whar dey's gwine to hold de Louisiana Perchance Exposition."

Up to Ten.

"Where are you going this evening?"

"Theater. 'King and a Few Dukes.' Where are you going?"

"Slugging match. Duke and a few counts."

As a Special Favor.

"We don't allow beggars or canvassers in this building," said the janitor of the apartment house.

"But I've got to see a man on the fifth floor," said the shabby man, pleadingly. "I'm the owner of the building."

No Occasion for Worry.

"It's got so now," began the sour-looking man with the basket, "that the infernal beef trust——"

"You won't find any beef trust at this shop," interposed the butcher, blandly. "My terms are cash."

A la Mary MacLane.

"O, blankety blank!" exclaimed the soubrette, clasping her hands. "Blank it! Blank everybody. Blank everything! Blank! Blank! Blank! Blank!"

"What's the matter with you?" asked the heavy villain, in astonishment.

"I'm trying to be happy!" sighed the soubrette.

Mean Advantage.

"You told me less than a month ago," interrupted his constituent, "that the President's Philippine policy suited you exactly, and yet the last speech you made in Congress was one long roast of the President's Philippine policy."

"My friend," explained the Congressman, in a voice trembling with indignation, "they rushed that speech into print before I had an opportunity to revise it, or there wouldn't have been a word about the Philippines in it!"

Particeps Criminis.

But justice never will be done
Until there is prescribed
The self-same course of treatment for
The briber and the bribed.

Premonitory.

"You look preoccupied, Hiram," said his wife.

"I feel as if I were going to have the grip," replied Mr. Jyner.

And he put on his hat and went downtown to join another secret society.

FRENCH SALON IS OPENED.

AMERICAN ARTISTS WIN GOLDEN PRAISE IN PARIS.

Portraits of Mrs. Roosevelt and Alice Roosevelt Hang in Place of Honor and Attract General Attention—Detailles' Mural Painting of the Napoleonic Period Easily Carries Off the Honors of the Entire Exhibition—Some Notable Works of Sculpture.

[Copyright: 1902: By the New York Tribune.]
[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, April 29.—The annual art fair of the Society of French Artists, of which Bouguereau is President, was inaugurated today by President Loubet and will open to the public tomorrow. Altogether there are 4,268 numbers, of which 1,680 are oil paintings, 750 sculpture, and the rest water colors, pastels, architectural drawings, engravings, etc.

Of Interest to Americans.

Among the notable portraits of particular interest to Americans are those of Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Alice Roosevelt by Chartran; Mrs. Clarence Eddy, by Seymour Thomas; Mrs. Loubet, wife of the President of France, by Eugene Rostrand.

The jury of admission has shown greater severity than for many years. Nevertheless, the salon contains some 500 pictures that ought to have been refused. There are scores of distressing imitations of Bouguereau's nymphs, and of Harpignie's oaken landscapes; but, on the whole, there is evidence of conscientious emulation and increasing sincerity. Indeed, thoroughness and sincerity furnish the keynote of this year's salon, although in many instances evoking impressions of respect rather than of sympathy or admiration. There are a few nudes, scarcely a dozen scriptural compositions, and the canvases that come within the categories of allegorical horrors or naturalistic freaks may be counted on one's fingers.

Detaille's Wonderful Painting.

Detaille exhibits two vast mural decorations for the Hotel de Ville, one of which represents the municipality of Paris presenting the color bearers of the imperial guard with golden crowns for the regimental eagles as the veteran troops returning from Jena. Eylau, and Friedland enter the capital. This splendidly composed and harmoniously colored reconstruction of one of the proudest pages of the Napoleonic era is unquestionably the finest picture of Detaille's career. It is a masterpiece, making the other historical paintings—for example, "Napoleon's Coronation," by David, in the Louvre—seem like the work of a mere tyro.

Portraits of the Roosevelts.

The portraits of Mrs. Roosevelt and Miss Alice Roosevelt hold their own in the midst of Parisian surroundings and are pronounced by French critics to be specimens of Chartran's best work, surpassing in distinction and refinement anything he has yet done. In a room near that in which the portrait of Mrs. Roosevelt occupies the place of honor is a large portrait of Mme. Emile Loubet, a solid composition, somber in tone, admirably drawn by Patricot, who has succeeded in portraying the maternal dignity and true womanly character of the woman who presides at the Elysée Palace.

A brilliant portrait of Eugene Rostand in velvet and yellow, reflected lamp light, reclining on a sofa, reading and holding a cigaret between his fingers, painted by Pascau, attracts attention.

Of the 1,207 painters who have oil pictures in the salon seventy-two are Americans, of whom twenty-four are women. The Americans this year evince a close and accurate observation and more than usual technical skill. Their works are full of interest and sympathy.

By Other American Artists.

Seymour Thomas exhibits two portraits, which are hung as carefully as if they were canvases by Bonnat or Benjamin Constant. The one in pale, lime colored tones is a portrait of Mrs. Clarence Eddy; the other is a conscientiously composed study in portraiture of a young woman, in soft subdued tones.

A young American, Aston Knight, comes out strongly as a painter of charming landscapes, lighter and more modern in tone and treatment from those of his father, Ridgeway Knight, who exhibits his favorite academically treated peasant girls.

Some Notable Sculptures.

The sculpture section is dominated by Gérôme's superb bronze eagle with broken wings, intended for the battlefield of Waterloo. Gérôme's polichrome marble woman dropping balls into cups is delightful, while Macmonnies' admirable equestrian, General Slocum, and Fremiet's grandly conceived equestrian Du Guesclin, give a martial aspect to the broad expanse of unusually interesting statuary.

EVENTS IN CHICAGO SOCIETY.

Marriage of Miss Annie Root to Mr. J. H. Bullen at Residence of Bride's Mother.

Miss Annie Stearns Root, daughter of Mrs. E. Towne Root, and Mr. John Hebert Bullen will be married this evening at the residence of the bride's mother, 5200 Cornell avenue. Mrs. Root will give her daughter away, and the marriage service will be read by the Rev. P. B. Mercer at 7:30 o'clock. The bride's sister, Mrs. G. R. Pulsifer of Newtonville, Mass., will be the matron of honor, and her brother, Mr. George F. Root, the best man. The other attendants will be the bride's small nephew and niece, Elizabeth Root and Hinman Root, and her cousin, Albert Root. A small reception will follow the ceremony. Miss Root is a member of the Root family which has won musical fame, and is a cousin of Mrs. Clara Louise Burnham, the writer.

In Highland Park yesterday the wedding of Miss Athleen L. Prall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Stout Prall, and Captain Frederick Lee Munson of the Twenty-fourth Infantry, U. S. A., took place at 4 o'clock at Trinity Church. Miss Josephine Prall was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Anna Munson was the only bridemaid. Lieutenant William K. Naylor, Ninth Infantry, U. S. A., was the best man. The ushers were Earle Munson of Pittsburg, Lynn Ryerson Rutter, Anson C. Morgan, and Frederick P. Boynton. The bride's gown was of white crêpe and lace and her bouquet lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a white and the bridemaid a green costume, and both wore large white picture hats and carried bouquets of white lilacs. A reception followed the ceremony at the Prall home.

In Englewood last evening the wedding of Miss Cornelia V. Ball, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Ball of 6643 Stewart avenue, and Mr. Edwin Buell took place at the Pilgrim's Church. The Rev. Dr. W. O. Shepard performed the ceremony. Mrs. William Graver of Englewood and Mrs. George Barrere of Columbus, O., acted as matrons of honor. Miss Pauline Stevenson of Washington was the maid of honor and the bridemaids were Miss Olive Dodge of Washington and Miss Margaret Bradshaw of Columbus. The ushers were Fred Holbrook, George Critchell, L. Lightcap, and Will Graver. The ribbons were stretched by Raymond Little and Henry Ryther. Mr. and Mrs. Buell will be at home after May 15 at 6643 Stewart avenue.

At the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul the wedding of Miss Ida May Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Stephens, was celebrated last evening at 8 o'clock, the Rev. George S. Todd officiating. Miss Flora Stephens was the maid of honor and Miss Carrie and Miss Edith McGill bridemaids; Andrew Young was the best man, and the ushers were Frank McLaughlin and Morris Whittingham. A reception followed the ceremony at the family residence, 224 Irving avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich will be at home after May 15 at 616 Washington boulevard.

The magazine entertainment given a fortnight ago by the Service club was repeated last evening in Handel Hall for the benefit of the Ogontz Lunch club. There were additional musical numbers given by Miss Emily Hutchinson and Miss Bertha Nixon, while Miss Mary Nixon repeated the monologues which were a feature at the entertainment given last week at the residence of Mrs. Potter Palmer. Miss Moss gave a recitation.

Miss Margaret Winterbotham of 2215 Michigan avenue gave a small luncheon yesterday for her guest, Miss White of New York, and on Saturday evening will give a dinner. This evening Miss Bayley of 4634 Greenwood avenue will give a dinner for Miss White.

Letter of Marquise de Fontenoy.

Copyright, 1902, by the Marquise de Fontenoy.

TWELVE thousand five hundred dollars is the alimony which the Grand Duke of Hesse has legally engaged himself to furnish per annum to his divorced wife, who has decided to establish her residence for the present in the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg, that is to say, at the doors of her former husband's dominions. Incidentally the fact has been brought to light that the Hessian courts have granted the divorce "against" the young Grand Duchy. Until now it was supposed that the tribunals had merely issued a decree without imputing blame to either of the two parties. Under the circumstances the action of the Grand Duke in paying an annuity to his former consort must be regarded as an act of graciousness rather than of obligation. Nor is this the only matter in which he has given evidence of good feeling. For although the courts had awarded to him the sole care and guardianship of his little 7-year-old daughter, yet he has arranged that she should spend a portion of each year with her mother. Indeed, it is this circumstance which is largely responsible for the action of the Grand Duchess in taking up her residence in te Duchy of Coburg.

Her presence there, however, will have the effect of putting an end to all projects which have been formed for a marriage between the younger sister of the Grand Duchess, Princess Beatrice of Saxe-Coburg, and the young Crown Prince of Germany. Princess Beatrice is one of the most attractive of unmarried Princesses, and in the eyes of the Kaiser possessed until lately the advantage of being closely related to the reigning houses of both Russia and England. For her mother is the only daughter of the murdered Czar, Alexander II. of Russia, while through her father, the sailor brother of King Edward, she is not only a Princess of the reigning house of Coburg but likewise a royal Princess of Great Britain and Ireland.

These advantages, however, no longer count. For the present Czar and his consort have sided with the Grand Duke of Hesse in his domestic troubles, and are exceptionally bitter against his former wife, and this attitude has likewise been adopted by the German Emperor and Empress.

While we have been hearing a great deal about the late Lord Kimberley, whose death took place the other day, little or nothing has been said about his son and successor. The latter will now enjoy the distinction of being the most advanced Radical in the House of Lords. He is, moreover, a Radical of the militant type, and during the course of a Parliamentary election in 1895 was arrested and fined for having been too free with the use of his fists in dealing with the friends and adherents of the Conservative candidate, one of his victims being the novelist, Rider Haggard. In consequence of this Lord Halsbury, the Tory Lord High Chancellor, deprived him of his commission as justice of the peace, a bit of news which Lord Wodehouse, the title by which he was then known, cheerfully announced at a meeting held to celebrate the return of his own candidate.

The new Lord Kimberley, who is a man of about 54, has been married for the last twenty-seven years to a daughter of Sir Henry Stracey, and has made his home at Witton Park, near North Walsham, ever since his marriage. He has been for some time past the most active of members of the Norfolk County Council, which has the distinction of administering a greater mileage of main roads than any other county in the kingdom.

Kimberley House, the ancestral home of the family, to which he will now transfer his abode, is a grand old place with towers at the angles, built some 200 years ago, situated in the heart of an immense park, famous for the age and the size of its timber. The parish of Kimberley, together with the adjoining villages belonging to the estate do not boast of a single public house, as the dram shops and saloons are called in England. The late Lord Kimberley never allowed one to be built on his property. As a strong believer in local option he used to quote his own example and say that temperance reformers only asked that the localities should be given the same privilege that he possessed.

The nearest town to Kimberley is Wymondham, well known to the sporting world, and which, with that delightful way which the English have of pronouncing words in a manner entirely contradictory to the method of spelling, is pronounced as if it were written "Wyndham," that is to say, like the name of the Chief Secretary for Ireland.

The new Lord Kimberley's younger brother, Armine, who died a year or so ago, married a daughter of the late Matthew Arnold, and has an American aunt in the person of Mary, Marchioness of Anglesey, who, a daughter of J. P. King of Sand Hills, Ga., married as her first husband, the Hon. Henry Wodehouse, younger brother of the late Earl.

I may add that the Wodehouses have always been renowned for their Radicalism and their independence towards the crown, and it is on record that John Wodehouse, one of the ancestors of the present Earl, was subjected to a heavy fine by King Henry V. for declining the honor of knighthood at that monarch's hands. It was John's father who distinguished himself so greatly at the battle of Agincourt that he received from King Henry the right to use the word "Agincourt" as one of his mottoes, the other motto borne over the crest, and of equal antiquity, being "frappez fort" (hit hard), a recommendation which the present Earl of Kimberley had in mind when he hit Rider Haggard in the jaw.

Talking about hitting, the late Prince Bismarck used to tell a funny story about the present Kaiser. It seems that on one occasion when the governess of young Prince William, as he was then—the governess was a somewhat stalwart lady of the name of Fraulein von Domineck—had inflicted personal chastisement on her future sovereign, she remarked as she invariably did after performances of this kind: "Prince, I must do this, although it pains me as much as you."

"Really," replied little Prince William, who was 8 years old at the time, "and does it hurt you, too, where it hurts me?"

FRENCH REVERE OLD AGE, SAYS M. HUGUES LE ROUX.

Lecturer Declares His Country Has Not That Confidence in Youth That Marks America.

More reverence for the old man and less confidence in the powers of extreme youth distinguish the attitude of the French from that of the Americans in the question of the place of the old man in the twentieth century, according to M. Hugues Le Roux.

In a lecture given before students of the University of Chicago yesterday afternoon M. Le Roux decried the modern feeling that man's value to the business community was over by the time he had barely passed middle age. The feeling that the French people entertained for the man who had spent the greater part of his life in the service of the commonwealth was such, he declared, as never to allow him to remain forgotten when he has passed the half century mark.

"Which is first to be considered, a reverence for the old man or confidence in the abilities of the youth?" asked M. Le Roux. "The French have not the same confidence in the powers of the young man in the business world as have the Americans. Yet the men of my country look upon old age with veneration. We have naturally a feeling of sympathy for the man or woman who has worked long and seen the hardships of many years.

"The question that has come to many nations of finding a place for the man who has passed his fortieth year is not one that has been necessary for Frenchmen to consider in such a degree. The people of France regard the old man not as a piece of machinery to be cast aside when some of the strength has gone. A halo is about the head of the aged, and we have been taught to listen to the old with respect and veneration. The French poets sing the praise of the old man and the French people share with them the love for the gray-haired men and women.

"It is not unnatural that there should be a great work to do for the young man in this age. The community needs his strength and vigor. Some countries may not give their young men the same positions of prominence and feel the same confidence in their abilities to lead as others. It may be that America feels more belief in the abilities of youth than do the French. Confidence in youth need not preclude a feeling of reverence and concern for the older men."

POST FOR H. CLAY EVANS.

NAMED CONSUL GENERAL TO LONDON BY THE PRESIDENT.

Present Commissioner of Pensions Is Given Office Made Vacant by Death of William McKinley Osborne, Cousin of Late Executive—Roosevelt Shows Confidence in Man Who Has Been Fought by So Many Veterans—Public Building Bill Wins.

WASHINGTON BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBU
New York, April 29.

Henry Clay Evans Named Consul General to London

Henry Clay Evans, Commissioner of P sions, has been promoted to the most lu tive post in the eign service of United States. He is to be appointed Consul General at London, to succeed William McKinley Osborne, cousin of President McKinley, whose death was announced today. When the President decided to relieve Commissioner Evans he commended the Tennessee statesman in the highest possible manner for his honest and independent management of the Pension office.

Mr. Evans was assured that it was the purpose of the President to promote him most distinctly and to do it in such a way that the pension sharks and the professional veterans who were chiefly responsible for the attack on the Pension office would have no possible excuse for congratulation.

The President sent for Commissioner Evans immediately upon hearing of the vacancy at London. The Commissioner hurried over to the White House and was offered the position, thought it over for a short time, and accepted.

The whole transaction was begun and ended before the news of the death of Consul General Osborne had been made public long enough to produce the usual crop of candidates.

There are several vacant diplomatic places in sight now and the pressure on the President for Mr. Osborne's place would have been terrific.

Fight Continuous During Whole Term of Office.

Mr. Evans will go out of office as Commissioner of Pensions with a splendid record. He executed the law as he found it, and none of his decisions has ever been questioned seriously. A fight was begun on him almost from the day he took office, largely if not entirely because he was opposed to the rapacious pension sharks who bleed the government and the old soldiers with little distinction.

He made things unpleasant for them about the Bureau, cut down their fees, and sent a few rapacious scoundrels to jail. The whole tribe immediately turned upon him and started a warfare in several old veteran papers controlled by pension attorneys and was carried into the Grand Army of the Republic.

Commissioner Evans was a prominent candidate for the Vice Presidential nomination at St. Louis. He subsequently expected to be made Postmaster General, and his friends were much surprised when he consented, out of loyalty to McKinley, to accept the thankless office of Commissioner of Pensions.

The position of Consul General at London pays a salary of $5,000, notarial fees, which amounted last year to $8,397, and other fees which bring the total compensation up to $30,000.

Public Building Bill Is Passed Without Reading.

Without the formality of a roll call the House this afternoon adopted the omnibus bill providing for the construction of public buildings in every section of the country. The measure provides for appropriations to the amount of $17,405,450. Aside from authorizing the construction of a large number of new buildings the bill provides for the increase in the cost of a number of structures now being built and authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to investigate the conditions in a number of other cities with a view to determining the needs in this respect.

In Illinois six buildings are authorized. One will be located at Evanston, the cost being $90,000. The location and the cost of the other Illinois buildings are: Decatur, $80,000; Pekin, $70,000; Kankakee, $70,000; Jacksonville, $60,000; Ottawa, $50,000.

Other cities in the middle West which will be given new buildings are:

In Iowa—Centerville, $35,000; Atlantic, $35,000; Marshalltown, $85,000; Waterloo, $150,000; Iowa City, $60,000; Boone, $100,000.

Kansas—Emporia, to cost $41,000; Hutchinson, $50,000; Lawrence, $50,000.

Michigan—Adrian, $40,000; Muskegon, $70,000; Owosso, $35,000; Battle Creek, $90,000; Flint, $60,000.

Wisconsin—Superior, $175,000; Baraboo, $30,000; Wausau, $50,000; Green Bay, $140,000; Fond du Lac, $60,000.

Minority Scores House for Haste in Voting Money.

Considerable unfavorable criticism has been indulged in at the expense of the House which passed this measure providing for appropriations amounting to $17,405,450 without even reading it. The measure was brought into the House this morning and was read by title only. The rule for its consideration was adopted after a parliamentary wrangle.

This rule provided for three hours' debate, but prevented any amendments to the bill or any other vote except the one for its final passage.

The formal reading of the bill was dispensed with by unanimous consent, and when Representative Richardson called attention to the fact that the House was about to put itself in a position of passing a bill which had not been read, Speaker Henderson said that later he (Mr. Richardson) would be able to demand the reading. Mr. Richardson did not see fit to do so.

Rain Drives Mrs. Roosevelt's Party Indoors.

Showers of rain greeted Mrs. Roosevelt's guests, who were bidden to the garden party at the White House this afternoon, and turned what would have been a most picturesque scene into a conventional indoor reception. Rivulets of water poured down the garden walks and the tents from which refreshments were to have been served turned a dirty gray under the soaking rain of last night.

The list of the invited bore the names of all the Cabinet members with their families, with a large contingent from the House and Senate. Among those invited were Senator Frye, Senator and Mrs. Blackburn, O. H. P. Belmont, Senator William A. Clark, General and Mrs. Corbin, Senator and Mrs. William A. Harris, Speaker and Mrs. Henderson, Senator and Mrs. Mason, the Misses Mason, Representative and Mrs. Mann, and Representative and Mrs. A. J. Hopkins.

"In my opinion the law taxing oleomargarine, butterine, and renovated butter manufacturers, which only awaits the President's signature to become operative, will be repealed within twelve months," said Representative Warner today. "It is a piece of bad legislation and it will injure a great many industries, especially in my section of the country."

BUSINESS CHANCES.

$50,000 IN 24 HOURS.
If the people of Chicago realized what an excellent investment we are offering in the stock of the RAYO MINING AND DEVELOPING CO., LTD., we are absolutely confident that we could sell $50,000 worth in 24 hours.
It is now selling at 30 cents per share, par value $1.00, full paid and non-assessable, and will be advanced to 75 cents as soon as this small block is sold, for dividend will then be guaranteed.
There are four developed gold mines, not prospects, with $1,000,000 in sight.
Three antimony mines with millions in sight and an electric power plant, which alone will pay 25% dividends on the entire capitalization of the company, which makes this investment the best, safest, and most profitable ever offered to the public.
Our bank and commercial references will satisfy the most exacting as to our reliability and our illustrated prospectus, which is sent free upon request, will give you full information regarding this investment; easy monthly payments if desired.
Next price on this stock 75 cents, and it's coming soon. Roanoke Investment Co., 520 T., Marquette Building, Chicago, Ill.

WHEAT A SHADE FIRMER.

MARKET LARGELY LOCAL AND THE RANGE NARROW.

Continued Dry Weather in Kansas Prompts Stouter Claims of Serious Crop Damage There — Northwest Denials of Reported Increase in Farmers' Deliveries—Corn Up a Little on Buying by Bull Leaders—Popular to Sell Oats.

July Wheat Range.

Wheat at its best yesterday was up ½-⅝c, and at its weakest held firmly at the prices of the previous close, in the end showing net gains of ¼-⅜c. There were some bull helps in the news, but the trade was light and almost entirely local, except for changing orders, and there was not enough animation or energy on the buying side to get the market through the call price. Kansas was still dry and some serious damage claims came from that quarter, some estimates of the crop ruthlessly reduced to 25 per cent, but they did not seem to be accompanied by buying orders, and lost much of their force on that account. Northwest receipts were small and the claims of increased movement there were contradicted, several houses receiving assurances that there was no likelihood of the usual May increase before the middle of the month, owing to the delay in spring work caused by the heavy rains. Traders were influenced by the tip that Bradstreet's would show a decrease of 6,000,000 bu in world's stocks for the week, but the report was not issued during the session. July sold from 75-⅛c to 75⅝-¾c and closed at 75⅜-½c. May was a shade stronger, most of the changing orders executed at a difference of ⅛c, and the close was 74¼-⅜c. September closed at 74¾c.

Some Cash Business Doing.

There was a moderate cash business here, sales of 45,000 bu winter wheat to millers and 125,000 bu No. 1 Northern for shipment, with the claim made that not a bushel was for export, but was all for mixing purposes at New York. More might have been worked, brokers finding it easier to get bids than to get hold of wheat, elevator interests not offering it. Export business at the seaboard was 208,000 bu, said to include 40,000 bu to France. No. 1 Northern Manitoba sold at Fort William at 1c over Chicago May, free on board. Clearances were 435,560 bu. The Northwest had only 107 cars to 231 a year ago, and primary receipts were 228,419 bu, compared with 406,778 bu a year ago. Minneapolis reported some improvement in the export flour demand, and country mills took most of the receipts there. Local contract stocks increased 214,000 bu, to 5,340,000 bu, total supplies in all positions being 9,346,000 bu, a decrease of 369,000 bu. Much of the business was changing hedges from May to July by elevator interests, Armour, Peavey, Carrington, and the Alton. There was selling by Richardson, Requa, Bartlett-Frazier. Love, Wrenn, and Barrell were buyers at times, and Pringle, Patten, and Brosseau were on that side. Liverpool was relatively firm, another early help; futures there off only ¼@½d. Broomhall estimated a "striking decline" in the amount of breadstuffs afloat during the next three months.

Harris-Gates Buying Corn.

Corn held firm in spite of a weak oats market, on support by the leading bull interests. There were net gains of ¼-⅜c in May and July, which were up ⅝-¾c at their best, but September lost a fraction. The July range was from 63½c to 64⅛-¼c, the close at 63¾-⅞c. Country offerings of cash corn were generally quoted smaller, farmers being busy in the fields, but the continued rains in all the corn States but Kansas had a bearish effect. The best support was by Harris-Gates, openly and through Hulburd-Warren. There was some selling by McReynolds, Carrington, and Updike. Outside trade, however, was limited. Elevators changed May to July at 1⅜c difference. Most shippers claimed a poor demand, but sales of 140,000 bu were reported, including No. 2 corn at ½c over May in store. Clearances were only 14,592 bu. The local inspection was 128 cars, with 2 contract, and 75 are estimated for today. Primary receipts were nearly as large as last year's, 408,170 bu, compared with 433,972 bu. Local contract stocks decreased 5,000 bu, to 3,621,000 bu, total supplies falling off 292,000 bu, to 6,290,000 bu. Liverpool was unchanged to ⅛d lower.

Country Selling Oats.

Oats were weak under country selling and local bear effort, last prices showing losses of ⅜c to ¾c, with the greatest declines in September and new July. The general reports of brilliant crop prospects since the rains were the potent factor in starting the decline to a lower level. Reports from Iowa were that the crop outlook could hardly be better, but farmers were busy and not selling anything. Most shippers reported Eastern buyers holding off for a further decline, but sales of 80,000 bu were reported, and the sample market did not decline with the May, which was off ⅜c to 42⅜c. Buckley had May for sale in the pit, with the demand scattering. Scott, Harris-Gates, Kidston, Updike, and Geddes sold July and September. Receipts were 266 cars, with 35 contract, and 130 are estimated for today. Local contract stocks increased 99,000 bu, to 779,000 bu, but total stocks decreased 489,000 bu, to 1,926,000 bu. Clearances were 24,666 bu.

Provision List Quiet.

There was a fairly firm market in provisions, with rather more doing in lard than in other product. The demand for this was excellent on various accounts, both speculative and in a cash way. Shipments of lard were larger, 1,598,000 lbs, against 1,172,000 lbs last year. Ware-Leland, Bartlett-Frazier, and Beazley were quite distinctly on the bullish side. As a general thing the pit trade was on the selling side. In ribs Wood was a buyer and Steener a seller. The pork trade did not amount to much, fluctuations being within 10c. Hog receipts were not heavy, 19,000, with 27,000 estimated for today. The yards' market was steady to strong. Western packing points were 62,800, against 54,500 the previous Tuesday, and 81,400 a year ago. Shipments of cured meats were 2,908,000 lbs, against 3,153,000 lbs a year ago. The lard shipments were 1,598,000 lbs, compared with 1,172,000 lbs last year. Closing prices were 2½c higher on pork, and 5c up on both lard and ribs.

The rye trade was slow, sales of May running down from 55¾c to 55¼c. The close was 55¼c bid and 55½c asked. Receipts were only 2 cars, which restricted cash business. Private rye stocks are 76,000 bu, an increase of 6,000 bu. The total is 853,000 bu, 11,000 bu larger than a week ago.

Barley is firm and in sufficiently good demand to absorb all the offerings of desirable seed. The inspection was 14 cars, 3,700 bu being withdrawn. Sales of screenings were made at 45@64c, common malting at 64c and of choicest at 70c. Sales were mostly at 69c. For choice barley to arrive 71c was bid.

Timothy seed showed little change. A couple of cars of September sold at $5.10. Contract was $7.25 bid. For first half of July—new crop seed—$8.00 was bid.

Clover was easy, contract nominally 5c lower at $8.30. Futures were not mentioned.

Nothing whatever was done in flaxseed, the market being in the same nominal condition which has marked it for a long time past. Quotations were as follows: No. 1 Northwestern, $1.79; Southwestern, $1.68; May, $1.69; September, $1.38. There were 8 cars here, 4 at Minneapolis, and 10 at Duluth.

Trade Gossip on 'Change.

Estimated arrivals for today are: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 75 cars; oats, 130 cars; hogs, 27,000.

T. M. Baxter petitioned the directors for a reopening of the case of Michael J. Ryan, secretary of A. R. Jones & Co., who was expelled with Jones last December on the charge of securing the quotations for a bucket shop on the pretense that they were for use in a branch office. It is urged on Ryan's behalf that all the representations in the matter were made by Jones, that he knew nothing of them and was expelled because he was secretary of the company, when the charge did not come under either of the three kinds of offenses for which the rules provide the penalty of expulsion for officers of a corporation, whether they are shown to have guilty knowledge of them or not. The directors declined to reopen the case.

John W. Gates was elected to membership by the directors yesterday.

The old rumor that the John W. Gates interest was buying large quantities of lard circulated through the provision pit yesterday, but the trade affected not to believe it. It was believed to have had its origin in New York. There has at no time been any indications here of a lard accumulation by this interest.

SLOW TRADE IN FARM STUFF.

Markets Generally Quiet, Though Well Supplied and About Former Prices Being Secured.

Tuesday, generally an off day on receipts of fruits and vegetables, was no exception to the rule yesterday, little produce coming in, yet still enough for the moderate requirements of the trade. Dairy products were without special change and subject to moderate demand. About five carloads of strawberries came from Southern States, principally Louisiana and Mississippi. New potatoes are a little more plentiful.

Quotations for round lots were as follows:

STOCKS HAVE LIGHT DAY.

VOLUME OF TRADING FALLS FAR BELOW NORMAL.

Dozen Leaders on the List Sell at Highest Recorded Price — Chicago and Northwestern Makes Heavy Advance—Atchison Common Traded In Most Heavily—New Order of Clearing-House Creates Some Comment—Terms of the Rule.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

NEW YORK, April 29.—[Special.]—Although the dealings in stocks today were somewhat smaller than yesterday and the lightest on any day for something more than two weeks, the market was not devoid of interesting features.

Chief among them was the fact that ten or a dozen stocks sold at the highest prices ever recorded for them. In this list were Chicago and Northwestern issues at net advances of 9½ and 5⅜ points for the common and preferred respectively, American Locomotive issues, Michigan Central, and Pullman Car, none of which retained the early improvement.

The heaviest trading was in Atchison common and in St. Paul, and, notwithstanding the sharp reactionary movement in prices during the last half of the day, these two stocks closed materially higher than last night. Other stocks that attained the same distinction as a rule on light transactions were Rock Island, L. and N., Chicago Great Western, which was unusually active; Illinois Central, and M., K. and T. preferred.

The most important news today was the action of the Clearing House committee in deciding that no banking institution shall be permitted to clear through a member of that association until it shall have been in active operation for at least a year; and that before being granted that privilege every institution applying for it must be examined either by the Clearing House committee or a committee of the association appointed for that purpose.

The most important of the series of resolutions adopted by the Clearing House committee is one which confers upon that committee the power to require non-member banks and trust companies that enjoy clearing privileges through a member of the association to keep a certain percentage of lawful money reserve against their deposits, that percentage to be determined by the committee and not in excess of that required of members of the association. By doing this it will safeguard depositors and check unwise extension of accommodations to borrowers.

As is well known, the trust companies and non-member banks that clear their checks through various members of the clearing house are now compelled to file with that institution weekly statements of their condition. The averages of the non-member banks are published, and it would be of great service to the financial community if the clearing house should insist upon publishing a similar statement of the averages of the trust companies. If this were done business would be conducted upon a much more intelligent and also a sa[illegible] basis than at present.

IN NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Railway Shares, and Other Securities in Wall Street.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The movement of prices was confused and irregular all of today and there was evidence of a diminishing speculative interest. The wide movements in high-priced stocks continued a feature, but the influence of the advances was impaired by some equally notable relapses in stocks where attempts were made to take profits.

The bond market maintained a firm tone today. Total sales, par value, $3,770,000. United States bonds wer all unchanged on the last call.

Money on call steady at 3¾@4 per cent; closing bid and asked, 3½@4 per cent; prime mercantile paper, 4@4¾ per cent; sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 487⅞@488 for demand and at 485¼ for 60 days; posted rates, 486 and 488½@489; commercial bills, 484⅜@485¾; bar silver, 51; Mexican dollars, 41. Government bonds steady; State bonds steady; railroad bonds irregular.

IN THE BOSTON MONEY MARKET.

General Tendency of Cash, Bonds, Copper Shares, and Other Securities at the Hub.

BOSTON, Mass., April 29.—[Special.]—A number of the coppers weakened today, including Calumet and Hecla, which sought another low level and found it at 34, off 5. United Copper was a feature of the outside market in both curbs, selling above 36. New Haven suffered from profit taking, declining 9 to 240 at the lowest. Call loans, 3½@4 per cent. Time loans, collateral, 4@4½ per cent; time loans, mercantile paper, 4@5 per cent. Clearing house loans, 2½ per cent.

IN THE NEW YORK MARKETS.

Quotations on Dry Goods, Coffee, Butter, Poultry, Metals, and Other Special Lines.

New York, April 29.—Dry goods—Continued firmness with a moderate amount of trade in course of transaction has again characterized the dry goods market today. The depreciation in the value of silver, which has acted as a handicap to export business, has been counterbalanced by the higher cotton market, resulting in an average amount of business.

Butter in All Grades.

Butter—Creamery, extras, per lb, 22c; firsts, 22@22½c; do seconds, 21@21½c; do lower grades, 20@20½c; State dairy, tubs, fancy, 22c; do firsts, 21@21½c; do seconds, 19@20c; State dairy, tins, etc., 19@22c; Western imitation creamery, fancy, 21c; do firsts, 19@20c; do lower grades, 18@18½c; Western factory, choice, 19@20c; do common to good, 17@18c; renovated, fancy, 21c; do common to choice, 18@20c; packing stock, 16@18c.

Coffee, Spot and Future.

Coffee—Sales amounted to 23,000 bags. The local market for spot Brazilian coffee was a trifle steadier in tone, but business dragged heavily. Quotations were based about on 5 7-16c for invoice lots of No. 7 Rio.

Coffee cables—Rio.—Coffee market weak; No. 7 Rio, 4, $150; exchange, 12 1-32d; receipts, 20,000 bags (two days); cleared for the United States, 19,000; stock, 662,000.

Santos.—Coffee market, steady; good average Santos, 4, $100; receipts, 28,000 bags (two days); stock, 1,077,000.

Hamburg.—Coffee market opened ¼ pfg higher; at 2:30 p. m., was net ½@¾ pfg higher; sales, 44,000 bags.

Tin, Copper, and Metals.

Metals—Tin in London closed spot at £[illegible] 15s and futures at £125 2s 6d. in New York spot at $27.87½@28.10. Copper in London spot at [illegible], at £52 2s 6d. At New York spot and futures, at $11.95; electrolytic and casting lake at $11.75@11.95. Lead at 4⅛c here, at London $11.87½@11.62½. Spelter was steady at London £11 13s 9d. Local iron market, pig iron warrants was still nominal; No. 1 foundry, Northern, $1[illegible] @20.00; No. 2 foundry, Northern, $18.0[illegible] 19.00; No. 1 foundry, Southern, $17.50@18.[illegible] No. 1 foundry, Southern, soft, $17.50@18.[illegible] Foreign markets were easier, with Glasgow closing at 53s11d and Middlesborough 48s 7½d.

NORTHWESTERN AT HIGH MARK.

Reports Concerning Railway Stock Send It Up Ten Points to 271.

TALK OF REFUNDING PLAN

Moores Also Said to Have Secured Representation on the Board.

DAY IN MONEY MARKETS.

The great strength in the stock of the Chicago and Northwestern road, which rose 10½ points in the New York market yesterday and closed at 270, only one point below the high figure, attracted wide attention. At 271 the stock reached the highest mark at which it has ever sold.

Besides the reports of the admission of the Moores to representation in the board are the statements of a refunding scheme, which are so definite as to lead to the belief that some such plan will be arranged.

Simeon B. Chapin of Chapin & Gaylord, who returned from New York yesterday after an absence of some months, offered this explanation:

"The noticeable feature to the recent movement in prices on the New York Stock Exchange is the sharp advance in high-priced railroad stocks, such as Northwestern, Canadian Pacific, Delaware and Hudson, Illinois Central, and numerous other gilt-edge securities.

"Investors have bought these stocks in preference to bonds in view of prospective good earnings and the possibility later on of having an opportunity of exchanging such issues as Northwestern into bonds of the same company. In this connection it is worth while to note that Northwestern preferred is to receive up to 10 per cent in dividends before the holder of common stock is entitled to receive over 7 per cent. Therefore in any exchange of stocks for bonds of this company preferred stockholders should receive by far the best treatment, and this stock, in my opinion, is worth a great deal more than it is quoted at today.

"It looks to me as though we would have a bull market during the month of May."

Interest in the stock was stimulated yesterday by the announcement, made in New York, that a large block of the preferred had changed hands at private sale at 260. On Monday the common stock advanced to a better price than this, but the execution of orders yesterday for only 5,000 shares put it up still further.

Talk of New Control.

Back of the striking rise in the Northwestern stock is a suggestion of a possibility of a change of control, which, however, is not generally credited. The Vanderbilts do not own enough stock outright to retain the control, but their management has been recognized in the property for so long a time that they have been given proxies as the annual meetings occurred. They are heavy holders of the company's bonds, but those of course do not carry the voting privilege.

One of the largest interests in the road now outside of the Vanderbilts is the Moore party. Its holdings have grown considerably since William B. Leeds, now President of the Rock Island road, bought 10,000 shares one day in a local brokerage office at about 200. That stock was put away at that time. The Moores have bought some for investment and have been leading factors in the purchases which have forced the stock up over 60 points since the first of this year.

Rock Island stock advanced sharply in New York yesterday to 180⅛, and closed at 179¾, with a net gain of 4¼. It is generally understood that the Moores have not by any means finished their plans for expansion of the system, and that the unfolding of their schemes will mean new rights for the stockholders.

Bank Consolidation Rumors.

New rumors affecting the consolidation of local banks centered yesterday around two of the trust companies, but nothing definite was admitted by interests in the institutions mentioned. The larger of the two banks, which would absorb the other if the deal goes through, as some people think it will, has been spoken of before in reports which credited it with the intention of taking in other companies, but nothing final of the nature has transpired yet.

Stock of the American Trust and Savings Bank, which it has been thought in some quarters might take over another institution, has been growing firmer lately and sold yesterday at 287. At the end of last week it was quoted around 275. Apart from the possibilities in this direction, however, the bank has prospered greatly under President Potter's management, and this has caused a steady appreciation in the stock. Royal Trust company stock has advanced recently and was quoted yesterday at 148 bid, a gain of 8. Illinois Trust has risen to 739 bid and 750 asked and Northern Trust is 500@525.

Little change has taken place in stocks of the national banks. Commercial National is still 425 bid. Continental National has sold off a little from the high point and sold yesterday at 285. No official statement has been issued yet about the consolidation impending between these two banks. President James H. Eckels of the Commercial National left yesterday for Nebraska to attend the funeral of J. Sterling Morton, but he will be back tomorrow.

First National stock is 472@475, and Bankers' National has sold at 200. The stock of the latter institution has advanced recently on a report, which is not verified, that the dividend rate will be increased to 6 per cent.

Lake Street Express Plans.

Lake Street Elevated stock was higher on the Chicago Exchange yesterday on the expectation that the company will be able to make some arrangement to begin the operation of express trains on its third track. President Clarence A. Knight says that the service cannot be installed until some agreement is reached with the Town boards of River Forest and Harlem, because it will be necessary to put in a switch yard at the Desplaines River to care for cars which are now stored in the structure west of Homan avenue.

The company has spent $60,000 in preparing the express service. It has practically completed the laying of the third track between Rockwell street and Forty-fourth avenue. The plan is to skip all stations between Forty-eighth and Oakley avenues, taking the third or middle track after passing the station at Forty-fourth avenue and leaving it at Rockwell. Campbell avenue station will also be passed. This will relieve the local trains of a large amount of traffic, and passengers this side of Austin will be able to get seats. Under this arrangement the stations which will be derived of the express service are Campbell, California, Sacramento, Kedzie, Homan, Hamlin, Fortieth, and Forty-fourth.

Financial Topics.

In the neighborhood of 400 tin can makers have struck in mills of the American Can Company at Boston and Eastern advices say there is fear of the trouble spreading to other points East and here in the West. Local officers of the company have no apprehension of trouble.

An officer of the Republic Iron and Steel Company reiterates the former statement that the company's earnings are more than [illegible] per cent on the common stock.

Call money ruled in New York yesterday 4 per cent and closed at 3½@4 per cent.

The controversy over railroad switching charges has caused the Glucose Sugar Refining company to close down its Peoria plant pending a settlement of the difficulty. The Pekin and Rockford plants have been reopened to take care of the business.

It is said that an English syndicate has directed the investment of $5,000,000 in Union Pacific securities and conditionally the investment of as much more. Mr. Harriman is said to have made special efforts to interest the foreigners and their representative was given every facility for enlightenment as to the status of the property. The British investors are said to have been assured that Union Pacific common will be placed on a 5 per cent basis in the near future.

The advance in Boston and Maine to 209 was the result of scattered buying on a rumor that the Vanderbilts were seeking to add to their holdings to prevent the acquisition of the road by the Pennsylvania. Officials of the Boston and Maine say that there is nothing in the rumor.

The regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent has been declared on the stock of the West Chicago Street railway company, payable on May 15.

Harris, Gates & Co. say that proxies already received by the United States Steel management insure the approval of the bond conversion plan by an overwhelming majority. Proxies of nearly 6,000 stockholders have been sent in, representing a clear majority of the stock.

Traction Stocks Firm.

Union Traction stocks were firm again here and in New York yesterday. The action of the stock was due to a report that the federal court will hand down a decision this week in the ninety-nine-year franchise case, and that it would be favorable to the company. The preferred stock gained ¾, but the common sagged off at the close, showing no net change. City Railway was higher at 224 on the same report.

IN LOCAL LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Receipts and Shipments of Cattle, Hogs, and Sheep—Figures for the Week.

Values for matured cattle and the best grades of sheep and lambs showed little change yesterday, but veal calves took a tumble of 50c from last week's prices, and the late market for medium sheep and lambs was weak, with bids 10@15c lower. Trade in hogs was firm, with several sales of choice hogs up to $7.40, against only one load at that figure from the larger supply of Monday. Prime shorn lambs sold up to $6.70, the high point of the year, and more than 1,200 big choice Colorado lambs sold up to $7.10, the highest price of the year for lambs of that weight.

Arrivals here for two days show a falling off of 3,000 cattle, 10,000 hogs, and a gain of less than 500 sheep as compared with same time last week, and a falling off of 8,000 cattle, 13,300 hogs, and 5,000 sheep as compared with the same period last year.

Tuesday's run of 3,000 cattle contained few steers of even fairly good quality, but the demand was slim for such as were here. There was nothing at hand to interest the big shippers and exporters, and local beef demand is evidently much narrower than a fortnight ago. Some 1,137-lb distillery steers sold at $6.35 and there were few corn cattle here good enough to sell higher, though choice to prime beef steers are still quotable at $6.75@7.40, the fair to choice beef grades at $6.00@6.75, and the plain to fair light and roughish beef steers at $4.90@5.90.

Slight weakness in the provision trade at the start had no effect on the market, and the useful hogs were quite closely bought up before noon, sales showing the following range:

|---|---|
| Bulk of sales | $7.00@7.20 |
| Selected butchers', 240@270 lbs | 7.20@7.35 |
| Light bacon, 150@175 lbs | 6.75@7.00 |
| Light butchers', 180@195 lbs | 7.00@7.15 |
| Mixed grades, 180@240 lbs | 6.95@7.20 |
| Heavy shipping, 260@350 lbs | 7.25@7.40 |
| Heavy packing, 280@400 lbs | 7.15@7.30 |
| Rough to heavy grades | 6.95@7.15 |
| Poor to choice pigs | 5.60@6.50 |

Amalgamated Copper.

OUR MR. PAINE, WHO HAS SO SUCCESSFULLY COMPLETED A LARGE DEAL ON THE BULL SIDE OF BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT, NOW PROPOSES TO ORGANIZE A BULL POOL IN AMALGAMATED COPPER AND PICK UP THE FLOATING SUPPLY OF THIS STOCK, WHICH IS SMALL OWING TO THE FACT THAT IT IS SELLING FROM 60 TO 70 POINTS BELOW ITS PRICE OF A YEAR AGO, AND PRESENT HOLDERS WILL NOT SELL MUCH OF THEIR STOCK BELOW 90, HAVING BEEN ASSURED THAT ALL THE BAD NEWS ON AMALGAMATED COPPER IS OUT AND THAT THE SITUATION WILL GRADUALLY IMPROVE UNTIL AMALGAMATED COPPER WILL AGAIN BE PUT UPON A 6 PER CENT OR 8 PER CENT BASIS.

MR. PAINE ADVISES US THAT HE KNOWS WHERE ORDERS HAVE BEEN PLACED TO PICK UP 100,000 OF THIS STOCK ON WEAK SPOTS, AND THAT AN ENORMOUS SHORT INTEREST EXISTS THAT HE THINKS CAN BE FORCED TO COVER ABOVE 80.

May moving brings new needs.

It's springtime for a certainty now, and the bright, warm days evoke all the manifold activities inseparable from the vernal season. Everywhere careful housewives are inspecting their household effects, busily directing a campaign of dusting, cleaning, renovating, rejuvenating, putting away winter's fitting equipage and bringing into view appointments appropriate to the springtime. Everywhere, too, one sees evidences of the great annual house-moving hegira. We spare no efforts to minister to the needs of our patrons in this time of turmoil and topsy-turvyness. For the housecleaning we've an abundance of helps in the way of implements and cleansing preparations. For brightening up old homes and furnishing new ones, our carpet, rug, interior decorating, brass bed, lace curtain, china and picture sections afford magnificent resources. Snowy linens too, choice new patterns in glassware, summer beddings and cool, airy designs in furniture are here in the varied profusion that gladdens the heart of the woman who is providing for the springtime needs of parlor, dining-room and boudoir.

Pongees for summer frocks.

The coolest, daintiest, and most modish of summer frocks are the new pongees, much worn by those who set the fashions for morning, street and afternoon toilettes.

The newest pongee, or "Shantung," as it is styled this year, is strong, yet firm in weave, clings like crepe, and shakes the dust like a piece of mohair. The designs embrace the new stripes, in various fancy colorings, which can be artistically worked out in the trimmings.

Natural color pongee is now most admired. We offer 10,000 yards, 21 inch, real Shantung, exceptional bargain, at 50c.

Chinese and Japanese goods at half.

You know the cleverness of the Japanese artists—how they excel in everything that requires patient skill.

From a great purchase which we recently made of a well known importer's entire stock of Chinese and Japanese embroideries, curios, etc., at half, we have a great quantity still on hand, which we propose selling at still lower prices.

Quaint and original designs distinguish these embroideries as works of rare artistic merit.

The assortment comprises embroidered cushion covers, handkerchiefs, hand-painted and embroidered folding fans, fancy painted odd shaped umbrellas, smokers' outfits of carved metal, fancy bedspreads, table covers, etc., etc.

Embroidered handkerchiefs for waist trimmings, etc., in all colors, 85c to 25c.

Embroidered bedspreads, full size, excellent value, at $75 and $65.

Artistic Japanese paper novelties, all size fans, umbrellas and lanterns, good varieties, 1.50 down to 5c.

The great lace curtain sale goes on with unabated vigor.

Old news you might think, to be talking about a lace curtain sale that started weeks ago, but it's still good news, for we're constantly opening up new cases that afford as extraordinary bargains as those of the first days of the sale.

Never before was so vast a collection of choice hand made lace curtains put on sale by one house at half price.

Profusion of patterns today, the very finest fabrics that the lacemaker's art could create, offered you at less than we could afford to sell you the machine-made product for ordinarily.

And still the people come and the orders pour in by mail in a steadily increasing stream, but we want the bargains shared in by thousands of more customers.

Mandel's editorial comment.

The enduring success of a mercantile house depends upon continuous and strenuous effort. The new must constantly succeed the old, and there's no point at which it is safe to stop content. Conditions change with kaleidoscopic rapidity, and the up to date store must accommodate itself to them. The store that's always in the lead is the one that's free from conservative ideas—that's ready for new departures—welcomes them, in fact. In such a store you'll always find the latest conveniences for the public—the freshest, brightest stocks—the most agreeable salespeople—the most satisfactory qualities, and what is a vital consideration, prices will prove lower than in stores where old methods reign.

☞ Goods purchased today will, upon request, be charged on your May account.

Special values in fine trunks, 11.50.

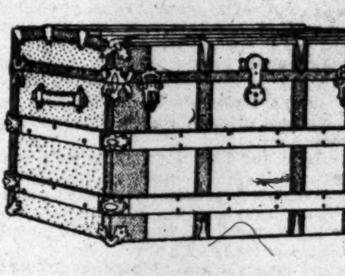
Ladies' hat, skirt, and dress trunks, that's what they are—the surplus stock and sample line of a great Eastern trunk-maker, who wanted to clean up this season's output before he started making his next year's line.



This particular manufacturer always does things that way, so there's not a trunk in the lot which dates back of the current season.

Most of these trunks are made entirely of 3-ply basswood, corners are bound with strong rawhide, and have both a top tray and an extra suit tray. They're cloth lined throughout, full riveted, have two sole leather straps around body of trunk. Some are steel bound.

Sizes run from 32 to 40 inches, but of course you'll not find all sizes in any one style, as this is a sample line.

A remarkable purchase of black & colored dress goods.

The success that followed the announcement of this great purchase sale of a retiring fashionable dressmaker's entire stock outrivals any similar event of the kind in our entire history.

The time was ripe for such a sale—women were ready to buy their season's dress goods supplies, and when we came forward and offered the most exclusive fabrics at half price it created an extraordinary stir in the world of fashion.

The lot includes over 200 dress patterns, one of the richest and choicest selections ever shown in Chicago, and the prices are not only half, but in many cases we give you choice of fabrics at about half what the ordinary retailer has to pay himself for equal qualities.
